WILSON ALONE MAY AVERT STRIKE

Fierce Fighting of Past Two Days Shows Entente Allies Gaining Slowly

GENERAL ADVANCE OF ENTENTE POWERS NOT CHECKED BY TEUTONS

Central Powers Lose Some Ground in Somme Region, in Galicia and in the Italian Theatre Saturday and Sunday—Official Reports Show Numbers of Prisoners Taken.

ITALIANS TAKE OVER 2,000 PRISONERS

Austrians Driven from Fortified Positions in Monfalcone and Gorizia Sectors—Berlin Claims French and British Attacks in Somme Region Were Repulsed With Heavy Losses.

Hard fighting in the Somme region of France, in Galicia and in the Italian theatre, with further gains for the entente allies in all three regions, marked the operations of Saturday night and Sunday.

Northwest of Pozieres, north of the Somme, the British made an advance of from 300 to 400 yards over a front of nearly a mile against the Germans and also captured trenches on the plateau northwest of Bazentin-Le-Petit, while the French southeast of Maurepas gained a further foothold on the slopes of Hill 109.

ALLIES FAIL NEAR SOMME.

Between Thiepval and the Somme Saturday night, according to Berlin, assaults by the entente allies broke down with heavy casualties to the attackers. The fighting near Hem and Maurepas continued throughout the entire night and into Sunday, the men repeatedly coming to grips in hand-to-hand encounters.

Mariampol, in Galicia, seven miles south of Halicz, the town of Podgajec and several villages along the upper Sereth river have fallen into the hands of the Russians. All along this front, even in the Carpathian region, Petrograd reports that the Russians are continuing their advance against the Austro-Germans.

On the Bystritsa sector and near Monastirsk, however, Berlin says, the Russians have been thrown back at several places by the counter attacks of the Teutonic allies.

TURKS TURN AGAINST BRITISH.

Constantinople reports that the Turks east of the Suez canal have turned against the British and compelled them to retreat with heavy losses. The London war office disputes this statement, however.

"After a long period of inactivity, the British along the Euphrates in Mesopotamia attempted an advance against the Turks, but retreated after two hours' fighting."

Mt. Etna in Eruption.

Rome, Aug. 13, 6:30 p. m.—The Etna observatory reports that the center of the crater of Mount Etna, now 1290 feet deep, is in full eruption. Lava is flowing to the southwest.

GERMANS HURL BACK BRITISH AND FRENCH ON SOMME FRONT

Berlin, via London, Aug. 13.—The French and British hurled large masses of troops against German positions on the Somme front yesterday and last night. The official statement of the German army headquarters of today records no gains for the entente allies and it is said the assaults between Thiepval and Guillemont broke down with the heaviest losses.

Russians Capture Mariampol.

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 13.—The Russian forces in Galicia have captured Mariampol, seven miles southeast of Halicz, and farther north the town of Podgajec, according to the Russian official communication issued this evening.

Italians Take 15,393 Prisoners.

Rome, via London, Aug. 13.—In the Monfalcone and Gorizia sectors, the Italians, pressing their offensive, have driven the Austrians from fortified positions, says the official communication of today. More than 2,000 prisoners were taken. The statement follows, in part:

"Altogether since August 6, 15,393 prisoners have been counted, including 333 officers. In the same operations we have taken sixteen guns, a large number of machine guns and war material of all kinds. "Enemy aircraft last night dropped a large number of bombs on Gardo and Campalto."

Molesworth Remains Manager.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 13.—Announcement was made tonight that Carleton Molesworth had been re-elected as manager of the Birmingham Southern association club for 1917.

SOCIAL DISCONTENT IN MEXICO CAUSED BY LABOR AGITATORS

CARRANZA ORGAN IN MEXICO CITY STATES STRIKING EMPLOYEES OF ELECTRIC LIGHT AND RAILWAY COMPANY CAUSED PATROLLING OF CITY.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 13.—Reports of social discontent in Mexico are contained in a copy of El Nacional, a Carranza organ of Mexico City, which reached here today. It is stated that last week Benjamin Hill, military commander of the federal district, had covered the city with patrols to disperse gatherings of striking employees of the electric lighting and street railway company. It added that several shots had been fired and that a small riot had resulted.

According to the paper, Carranza met representatives of the Federation of Syndicates, the organization behind the strike, and informed them that in his opinion their action in striking was unpatriotic. Social discontent in Mexico was attributed to the influence of socialist labor agitators. Arrivals in El Paso from the capital today, however, said that the food scarcity and lack of opportunity for work were important factors. Private dispatches here from Chihuahua City said that "General" Jose Inez Salazar, held there in connection with alleged revolutionary plots, had been executed by General Trevino. There was no official confirmation, however.

Rumors current in El Paso today that the Carranza garrison in Juarez contemplated an early revolt were pronounced ridiculous by de facto authorities.

GOVERNOR DUME OF ILLINOIS EN ROUTE TO INSPECT TROOPS

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13.—Gov. Edward F. Dunne, accompanied by Mrs. Dunne, Adjutant General and Mrs. Frank S. Dickson, Col. James K. Finn, Col. M. R. Kelly and Lieut.-Col. Jacob Frank, surgeon general of the Illinois national guard, left here today for a ten days' stay on the Mexican border. Governor Dunne and party go direct to San Antonio, Texas, where they will make an inspection of Illinois troops at Fort Sam Houston. They will also visit Brownsville, Texas.

FARM LOAN BOARD ANNOUNCES DATES

Washington, Aug. 13.—Dates and places were announced here tonight for the first thirteen hearings to be held by the farm loan board for compiling information on which it divides the country into twelve farm loan districts under the new rural credits law and determine the location of a federal loan bank in each. The first will be at Augusta, Me., a week from tomorrow, and will be followed by a trip across the continent to Spokane, where the first leg of the board's tour will be completed September 4. No southern or southwestern points will be touched this trip.

Candidate Hughes Attends Church and Rests Up Sunday

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 13.—Charles E. Hughes spent the day here quietly, resting from the activities of the past seven days and preparing for the second week of his campaign. This will open tomorrow with a twenty-five mile motor trip to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, when Mr. Hughes is due to speak at 11 a. m.

The nominee will return after lunch to Spokane, where there will be an afternoon and a night meeting. He will leave here at 8:45 p. m. for Tacoma immediately after speaking. The second week of his campaign will carry him as far as Los Angeles, through Tacoma, Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

Mr. Hughes and his wife attended the First Baptist church here today. They went this afternoon for a long motor ride through places of interest near by.

EASY TO BE HAPPY THOUGH HOT—WILEY

Dr. Harvey Wiley.

Dr. Harvey Wiley, the Washington food expert, in recently discussing ways and means of enjoying hot weather, declared that Americans are the world's worst "ninnies" about cold drinks and do not use them intelligently. They should be used sparingly, never deluging the inners with every ice drink to be had, and always sipping, not quaffing them.

Citizen Sailors Take Naval Course for First Time

Washington, Aug. 13.—Leaving offices, shops and factories for nearly a month at sea, 2300 citizen sailors are assembling for the first naval training cruise of civilians ever held by the American navy. Next Tuesday they will sail from various Atlantic coast ports on nine battleships to receive a month's actual sea training.

The cruise of instruction is designed to qualify citizens for naval service in time of emergency just as the camps at Pittsburgh and elsewhere train civilians for army service.

Secretary McAdoo of the treasury and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy are among those who will go from Washington and will receive the same treatment as others less prominent.

At Norfolk recruits from that city, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Chicago, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City, Dallas and Washington will board the battleships Illinois and Louisiana. The battleship Alabama will take on the recruits from Charleston, New Orleans and Houston at Charleston.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

GEE WHIZ—I WISH WE WERE BACK TO TH' GOOD OLD DAYS OF INDIAN MASSACRES!

VOLUNTARY FORECAST.

By Isidor Block, D. O. S., F. R., Met. S., Optician and Meteorologist

Partly cloudy. The low pressure continues moving in this direction, and as a consequence we may expect some partly cloudy to cloudy weather.

Local Readings. Local readings for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. yesterday: Maximum temperature 98 at 5 p. m., minimum 76 at 6 p. m.; barometer 29.95, humidity 49, wind passage 131 miles, fastest 11 miles an hour at 2:30 p. m.

Government Forecast. Washington, Aug. 13.—Forecast: East Texas and Louisiana—Monday and Tuesday partly cloudy, probably showers in southeast portion. West Texas—Monday and Tuesday partly cloudy.

AMERICAN MINERS IN MEXICO WOULD HAVE INTERVENTION

REFUSE TO OPERATE MINES IN ORDER TO AID TENDENCY OF POORER CLASSES TO TURN TO BANDITRY FOR A LIVING, ACCORDING TO REPORT.

Chihuahua, Mex., Aug. 13.—Charges are being circulated here, even in official circles, that American mining and other concerns with vast properties in Mexico are refusing to operate in order to help hasten intervention.

This action, it is claimed, is based on the fact that the only key to the present economic situation, particularly in the state of Chihuahua, is the reopening of these properties.

The American owners import food in large quantities. With plenty of work and food, de facto government officials say, the prevalent tendency of the poorer classes to turn to bandits would disappear. By refusing to operate, it is charged, the foreign concerns encourage lawlessness and deprive the Carranza government of revenue, in the hope, officials say, that its downfall will ensue, attracting the interference of the United States.

WORK POSSIBLE WITHOUT DANGER.

It is said here that resumption of work at the various mining camps could be accomplished without danger. Only small bandit groups are now in existence, while large garrisons are available for all properties.

While the industries are idle the American investments are depreciating in value. Also Mexican miners, descendants often of men who have worked the mines for centuries, and claiming, therefore, proprietary interest in the mines, are picking out such ore as they can for themselves. The adobe smelters are stoked up every night, the bullion finding a ready market in the numerous "fences" in Chihuahua.

GOOD CROP PROSPECTS.

Arrivals here report good crop prospects in the Conchos and other river valleys. However, the population of Chihuahua must live on imports for the next three months. The state has but little arable land and in the best of times, imports largely.

Since the rainy season set in dysentery and rheumatism has been prevalent in this city.

FRENCH CRUISER LEAVES PENSACOLA

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 13.—The French cruiser Amiral Aube, which unexpectedly entered this port yesterday, left today without the purpose of her visit becoming definitely known. Captain Leskiv took on no fuel or supplies, but did receive a packet of documents from the French consul.

Speechmaking Campaigns to Open in Maine

Portland, Me., Aug. 13.—The present week will see the opening of the speechmaking campaign against Maine voters in preparation for the election on September 11. As there will be no test of strength between democrats and republicans in other state prior to November 7, leaders of both parties look upon this contest as a political index.

Both President Wilson and former Justice Hughes are expected to plead for their own support as candidates.

Paralysis Deaths Are Less

New York, Aug. 13.—The department of health reported today a decrease of twenty deaths from infantile paralysis, compared with the preceding twenty-four-hour period, and also a drop of twenty-six in the number of new cases. The day's fatalities were twenty-two, and there were 141 new cases of the disease.

RAILROAD MEN FLATLY REFUSE TO ARBITRATE BUT WILL SEE WILSON

President Rushes Secretary Tumulty to New York With Messages Pointing Out Disasters That Would Follow General Strike on Railroads of Nation.

PRESIDENT MAY GET FACTIONS TO AGREE

Thirty Delegates of Workers and Nineteen Railroaders Accept Invitation to Confer With Wilson in Hope of Finding Some Method by Which Strike May Be Averted.

New York, Aug. 13.—A general strike on virtually all the railroads of the nation, paralyzing commerce and throwing approximately 2,000,000 men out of employment, can be averted only through the good offices of President Wilson, is a result of today's developments in the dispute over the men's demands for an eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime. The controversy was laid before the president at his invitation after the workers had flatly rejected any form of arbitration. They refused mediation yesterday.

Soon after accepting the president's summons, extended through the federal board of mediation and conciliation, the men announced that the leaders of the four railroad brotherhoods would leave for Washington at midnight, accompanied by thirty of the 400 delegates assembled here. An hour later the railroad managers, nineteen in number, said they would leave for the capital at the same time.

REACH WASHINGTON TODAY.

Both parties will reach Washington tomorrow in time for an early conference with the president. The hour for the meeting will be arranged by Secretary Tumulty, who started for this city from Washington late today as Mr. Wilson's representative, arriving here at 3 o'clock. No tumultuous brought with him a communication from President Wilson addressed to the brotherhoods and the railroad managers, pointing out that such a paralysis of business as would follow a general railroad strike would be a catastrophe at any time, but would be nothing short of a disaster under present conditions.

Negotiations had not been broken off when Mr. Tumulty left Washington, but when he reached Philadelphia he received a telegram from W. L. Chambliss, one of the mediators, informing him that the men had declined to arbitrate. Mr. Tumulty's first step after reaching New York was to call President Wilson on the long distance to decide upon an hour for the federal conference at the white house tomorrow.

FINAL BREAK YESTERDAY.

The final break came today after the men had been in secret session nearly six hours. Reports differ as to the reason for the failure of the negotia-

*****
PRESIDENT IS HOPEFUL.
Washington, Aug. 13.—President Wilson, deeply concerned over the possibility that a general strike may tie up the country's railroads, is prepared to make an insistent personal appeal for an amicable settlement when the representatives of the railroads and their employees confer with him tomorrow at the white house.
The president is said to feel that, regardless of the points at issue, a way still can be found for settlement without a strike.
Whether he will suggest any new form of mediation, now that government agencies have been exhausted, was not known tonight, but it was said he was ready to go to great lengths in order to avert an actual break.

tions in view of the cheerful outlook of the night before. The men asserted they refused to arbitrate because the railroads insisted on arbitrating their "contingent proposition." The board of mediators, in a statement issued tonight, declared, however, that the men rejected their proposition, contending that they would not arbitrate even if the railroads waived the contingent proposition. The statement of the mediators, issued by Judge Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the board, just before their departure for Washington, follows:

"After repeated efforts to bring about an arbitration of the pending controversy between the railroads and their employees in train and yard service, the United States board of mediation and conciliation was today advised by the representatives of the employees that they would not submit the matters in dispute to arbitration in any form.

WILL NOT ARBITRATE.

"The employees further stated to the board that they would not arbitrate their own demands even if the contingent demands of the railroads were withdrawn and also declined to suggest any other plan or method of a peaceful settlement of the controversy. "They were informed that their decision would at once be known to President Wilson and also that the president claimed the right to a personal interview with both parties before any further action was taken."

Lake Foxaway Dam Gives Way and Flood Threatens Western South Carolina

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 13.—The Lake Toxaway dam, weakened by the recent floods, broke tonight, sending a great wall of water down the valley toward Western South Carolina. No lives thus far have been reported lost and warnings sent out from several cities are believed to have enabled most persons in the path of the flood to reach safety.

The released waters tonight were rushing through the Toxaway river valley, a comparatively uninhabited country, toward the Schuaga river in South Carolina.

Persons familiar with the territory expressed the belief that the waters would spread over uninhabited country, thus minimizing the possibility of extensive damage.
Toxaway is the third and largest of the lakes in the western North Carolina mountains to go out since July 16. One version of the breaking of the dam was that a small spring had seeped away the foundation at a heavily pressed point.

The dam was constructed at a cost of about $50,000.

LITTLE DAMAGE EXPECTED.

At midnight the Seneca river in South Carolina, through which the waters of Lake Toxaway will flow into the Savannah river, were normal near the town of Seneca, about forty miles southwest of Toxaway. It was feared serious damage would be done to crops along the Keowee river in Pickens and Oconee counties, which are divided by the Keowee.

Telephone messages from the Keowee valley late tonight said the inhabitants were remaining awake in anticipation of a rapid rise in the river, but at midnight there was sign of the flood. This indicated, in the opinion of river experts, that the flood had spread over considerable territory in Transylvania county, N. C.
The course of Toxaway river through Transylvania county is without communications.

Now See What the News Done Went and Done

Over two thousand Waco ball bugs were envied by some thousands of other Waco ball bugs last night. Through the get-up-and-get of the Morning News the lucky couple of thousand saw the best ball game ever played in the Texas league and next to the best ever played in any league. Incidentally, the paper scored probably the biggest beat in its history.

Don't take any chances today. The News will again offer a free electric scoreboard—better than yesterday's—for the Houston game. We say better, because the board will be put up in the vacant lot next door to the News building. It will be cleared off nicely, the shade will be better and no autos will get in front of you. The board will be elevated so it will be easily seen from any part of the lot.

Come on around about 4:15—it don't cost anything, and the News wants you to be its guest. We don't promise any more twenty-inning games—but you never can tell.

ARE WE HELPING TO PUT WACO IN THE CITY CLASS?

tions in view of the cheerful outlook of the night before. The men asserted they refused to arbitrate because the railroads insisted on arbitrating their "contingent proposition." The board of mediators, in a statement issued tonight, declared that the men rejected their proposition, contending that they would not arbitrate even if the railroads waived the contingent proposition. The statement of the mediators, issued by Judge Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the board, just before their departure for Washington, follows:

"After repeated efforts to bring about an arbitration of the pending controversy between the railroads and their employees in train and yard service, the United States board of mediation and conciliation was today advised by the representatives of the employees that they would not submit the matters in dispute to arbitration in any form."

WILL NOT ARBITRATE.

"The employees further stated to the board that they would not arbitrate their own demands even if the contingent demands of the railroads were withdrawn and also declined to suggest any other plan or method of a peaceful settlement of the controversy."

"They were informed that their decision would at once be known to President Wilson and also that the president claimed the right to a personal interview with both parties before the failure of the negotia-

Lake Foxaway Dam Gives Way and Flood Threatens Western South Carolina

The dam was constructed at a cost of about $50,000.

LITTLE DAMAGE EXPECTED.

At midnight the Seneca river in South Carolina, through which the waters of Lake Foxaway will flow into the Savannah river, were normal near the town of Seneca, about forty miles southwest of Toxaway. It was feared serious damage would be done to crops along the Keowee river in Pickens and Oconee counties, which are divided by the Keowee.

Telephone messages from the Keowee valley late tonight said the inhabitants were remaining awake in anticipation of a rapid rise in the river, but at midnight there was sign of the flood. This indicated, in the opinion of river experts, that the flood had spread over considerable territory in Transylvania county, N. C.

Now See What the News Done Went and Done

Over two thousand Waco ball bugs were envied by some thousands of other Waco ball bugs last night. Through the get-up-and-get of the Morning News the lucky couple of thousand saw the best ball game ever played in the Texas league and next to the best ever played in any league. Incidentally, the paper scored probably the biggest beat in its history.

Don't take any chances today. The News will again offer a free electric scoreboard—better than yesterday's—for the Houston game. We say better, because the board will be put up in the vacant lot next door to the News building. It will be cleared off nicely, the shade will be better and no autos will get in front of you. The board will be elevated so it will be easily seen from any part of the lot.

Come on around about 4:15—it don't cost anything, and the News wants you to be its guest. We don't promise any more twenty-inning games—but you never can tell.

Eagles Are Flocking to Savannah

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 13.—Delegates from all parts of the United States are arriving here tonight to attend the annual session of the Grand Order of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which will begin tomorrow and continue through the week.

Reports on changes made in the constitution at the last meeting of the Grand Aerie are expected to furnish the most important subjects for discussion.

Cigarette Butt Thought to Be Cause of Fire

Thought to have been started by a lighted cigarette stub, a fire destroyed the roof on the eight-room Raleigh hotel, next to the Raleigh hotel, and did serious damage to the furnishings yesterday at the noon hour. Athos G. Fannin, A. E. Doss and L. Helmskamp, with their families, occupied the structure, which is owned by R. C. Allen of Hearne, Texas. Furnishings were owned by Mr. Fannin and were valued at about $1,500, and this loss was very heavy with no insurance. Damage to the house will probably reach $1,000.

This residence was moved from the present site of the Raleigh and built close to the hotel. The ten stories of the hotel rise above the shingle roof of the residence. There was no fire in the house nor wires from which the blaze might have started. Close as it was to the Raleigh, the dense volumes of smoke from the building, with the streams of water playing found their way through windows into the hotel and gave pedestrians an idea at first the hotel itself was on fire. Practically no damage even by smoke was done to the fireproof hotel, even though the blaze was against the building.

Senate Democrats Caucus Spends Sunday on Importance of $200,000,000 Revenue

Washington, Aug. 13.—The importance of the $200,000,000 revenue bill on which senate democrats today devoted many hours of deliberation is being impressed upon leaders by the fact that appropriations of the session now nearing completion have broken all records.

With passage this week of the $50,000,000 ship purchase bill and probable approval by the house of the senate's gigantic naval bill, the appropriations of the Sixty-fourth congress will have exceeded the previous high record by at least a half billion dollars.

While exact figures cannot be computed until the gavel has fallen on the last supply bill of the session, the aggregate appropriations by congress for all purposes probably will approximate $1,700,000,000, as against $1,114,000 for the Sixty-third congress.

Besides regular supply bills, which total as they now stand 1,387,206,530, congress will have added, when the shipping bill is approved, more than $90,000,000 for special purposes. There also have been contract authorizations amounting to about $207,000,000, all of which would bring the grand aggregate to $1,685,000,000, with the uncertainty of general deficiency appropriations still in the making to be added at the end of the session.

Special appropriations include $20,000,000 for a government nitrate plant; $6,000,000 for good roads; $15,000,000 for rural credits and $50,000,000 for the government shipping project. General supply bills that enter into the session increases total as follows:

Postoffice, $322,206,572; navy, $1,250,000; pensions, $158,060,000; sundry civil, $128,396,445; rivers and harbors, $42,886,085; legislative, executive and judicial, $37,925,690; army and navy, $297,000; and other urgent deficiencies, $31,012,075; agriculture, $27,000,000; fortifications, $25,748,050; District of Columbia, yet to be approved, about $13,000,000; Indian affairs, $10,967,644; diplomatic and consular, $5,355,096; and military academy, $1,225,043.

Secretary Lane Accused of Favoring Opening Up of Oil Reserves Set Aside for Navy

Washington, Aug. 13.—Gifford Pinchot, former chief of the forest service, today sent to Secretary Lane of the interior department an open letter, declaring the secretary had abandoned the conservation policies, and despite a recent denial, is exercising his influence in favor of the pending Phelan bill in favor of the opening up of the Western oil reserves set aside for the navy.

"If this legislation is enacted," wrote

Mr. Pinchot, "the oil land reserves set aside for the navy will be destroyed. The mere threat of its passage has caused the navy department to seriously consider the advisability of abandoning the policy of construction of oil burning ships. Without them no navy can even be second-class."

The letter cites also other acts of the secretary to show that he has not been a champion of conservation.

No Disturbing Factors in Business Conditions

Washington, Aug. 13.—In a review of business conditions issued today, the statistics and standards committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States declares there to be an entire absence of concern over the effect upon business of the presidential election, the possibility of peace in Europe or any other factor of possible disturbance. Campaign year, the committee says, need not be regarded with apprehension. The report shows favorable agricultural and industrial conditions.

NEWS SCORE BOARD THREATENED WITH INJUNCTION SUIT

An injunction was threatened against the Morning News yesterday, on account of the general blocking of traffic between Sixth and Seventh streets during the big ball game in the afternoon. Some vendors of gasoline in the News neighborhood thought themselves hindered in their business by the thousands who persistently surged and crowded about the front of the News office striving to see the very much alive scoreboard as every play made during the record breaking twenty-ninth game in Galveston was portrayed a moment after it happened.

As soon as the blockade was called to the attention of the management of The News, no time was lost in making arrangements to continue the scoreboard every afternoon, and at the same time not inconvenience the neighboring business concerns. The adjoining News building was finally secured and is today being cleaned up and by the time the game starts this afternoon, everything will be ready for the Waco fans to see the News and the Buffalo play in Houston, every move being shown on the electric board as it is made.

fore any drastic action was taken. This request was, of course, granted, and a large delegation of employees, with a number of railroad managers will be in Washington Monday for a conference with the president.

"Early in the negotiations the railroads had informed the board of mediation and conciliation that they would accept arbitration."

The chief objection of the men to arbitrating the railroads' "contingent proposition" lay in their contention that the proposal entailed the wiping out of double compensation features which the men have gained during thirty years of effort. The railroads have contended that double compensation, together with the demands of the men, if granted, would increase the wages of many of their employees more than 100 per cent.

Elisha Lee, chairman of the conference committee of railroad managers, declined to discuss the crisis other than to say that the railroads had proposed first mediation and then arbitration without success. He placed the responsibility for the utter failure of the mediators upon the men.

RAILROADS BLAMED FOR BREAK.

A. B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, the official spokesman for the men, on the other hand, placed the blame for the break entirely upon the unbending attitude of the railroads.

When the mediators realized that further parley was useless, they accepted the president's invitation. The men did not vote to accept the call until nearly two hours after it had been received.

The president may succeed in bringing the opposing factions to an agreement as to the merits of arbitration, was indicated in Mr. Garretson's response to a question at that point.

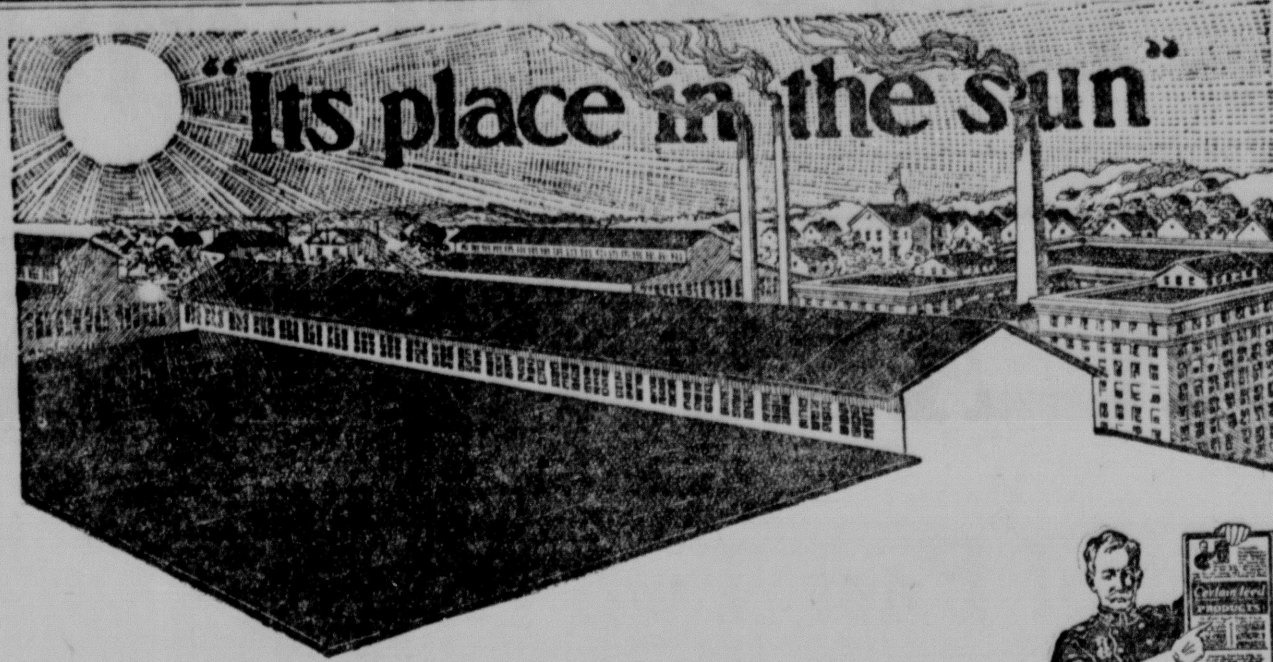

"I have no comment to make on what the president may succeed in accomplishing," he said. "Our determination to reject arbitration was due to the attitude of the railroads. Indifference always breeds resistance. And the railroads have been indifferent to the demands of the men. They have never made an honest effort to effect a settlement. They have offered to mediate our demands without offering to mediate anything in return. Had they shown a disposition to meet us half way, the situation might now be different."

BROTHERHOODS ARE FIRM.

President Garretson declared the brotherhoods were prepared to be just as firm as the railroads.

Secretary Tumulty gave out tonight the following message from President Wilson to the chairman of the conference of the managers and the head of the four railway brotherhoods:

"I have learned with surprise and with keen disappointment that an agreement concerning the settlement of the matters in the controversy between the railways and their employees has proved impossible. A gen-

To hold "its place in the sun," is the avowed purpose of a great nation's conflict. To hold "its place in the sun," is the object of every business in the great fight for industrial and commercial supremacy.

To be able to hold "its place in the sun," is the supreme test of an asphalt roof. It is the sun, not rain or snow, that plays havoc with a roof. If it can resist the drying out process of the sun beating down upon it, day after day, the rain or snow will not affect it except to wash it clean and keep it sanitary.

Certain-teed Roofing

takes "its place in the sun" and holds it longer than other similar roofing, because it is made of the very best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with the correct blend of soft asphalts, and coated with a blend of harder asphalts. This outer coating keeps the inner saturation soft, and prevents the drying out process so destructive to the ordinary roof.

The blend of asphalts used by "The General" is the result of long experience. It produces a roofing more pliable than those which have less saturation, and which are, therefore, harder and drier.

At each of the General's big mills, expert chemists are constantly employed to refine, test and blend the asphalts used; also to experiment for possible improvements. Their constant endeavor is to make the best roofing still better.

The quality of CERTAIN-TEED is such that it is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply). Experience proves that it lasts longer. Behind this guarantee is the responsibility of the world's largest manufacturer of roofings and building papers.

What Workmen's Compensation Our Laws Cover

One of the many significant things to be learned from the review of decisions affecting labor, just published by the bureau of labor statistics, states the current issue of the Engineering Record, is that in every case decided in 1915 involving their constitutional workmen's compensation laws have been upheld. Since it is evident that such laws have come to stay, it is all the more important to follow their workings.

How liberally the courts are construing the phrase "course of employment" from these cases: In New York the accident was construed as in the course of employment in the case of the driver of an ice wagon who was hurt while leaping from the seat to warn some boys off of the step. Death from heart trouble caused by lifting bags of coal, and death induced by the effort on the part of a steamboat cook to save effects from a sinking vessel, were held in Massachusetts to be in the course of employment. Minnesota courts placed in the same category the death of a wagon driver by lightning, and injuries received by a workman who was shot by an intruder. An implied authority to do certain work in which the key would be of service. The California compensation law was successfully invoked in the case of an employee who was shot by an intruder, and one who was injured by the assault of a fellow workman.

Taking the decisions as a whole, concludes the Engineering Record, it seems safest to assume that almost anything that happens to an employee during working hours will be considered as having occurred in and arising out of the course of his employment.

Itasca Orphans Appeal for Aid

The following appeal for help has been received by the News from the Presbyterian Orphans Home at Itasca:

Itasca, Tex., Aug. 13.

To All Friends of the Orphans:

While gratified to report the health of the children in the Southwestern Presbyterian home and school for orphans, located at Itasca, Texas, is good, it is a matter of great regret that we are compelled to appeal for funds to help us through the summer. We have been keeping that we would not have to make this public appeal for funds this summer as Synod has called upon the churches to give us a special collection in September. But in settling our bills for July, we scraped the bottom of our treasury and we have not been receiving more than one-half the amount necessary for several months. Our expenses are about $1,000 a month, and we will receive only about $500 this month.

We lay the facts before you. Will you not send us your check and thus ward off hunger and debt?

Our regular helpers, as a rule, are doing their part and remitting their regular monthly offerings, but these are insufficient for the needs. We must have more or suffer. Flour, sugar, meat, lard, clothing, shoes, yea, everything almost has gone up in price wonderfully of late, while our support fund has diminished. We have given out a number of our children this summer and have been contracted with through up to September without debt, but still we are in need. Quite a number of applications on our desk awaiting reply as to whether we can take them or not. They are needy and worthy. Shall we take them? Will it be right to do so with no money in the treasury to feed and clothe them? School should begin early in September—teachers have been paid. We assume this extra expense until we have the money to pay the teachers. Our winter's stock of coal should be laid in now before the railroad traffic becomes impossible. But coal is a cash commodity, and where are we to get the cash?

Friends of the orphans, one and all, will you not come to our help and furnish us with the funds to feed and clothe the seventy-five or eighty little ones we have now in the home and the many others who are knocking at our doors for admission? Do not put off sending us your personal check to help us in this time of need. This is no false alarm—the need is imperative.

Send all offerings to the undersigned at Itasca, Texas.

Yours for the fatherless.

JAS. D. McLEAN, President.

Judge Grubbs Honored.

Greenville, Aug. 12.—The state convention of County Judges and County Commissioners, in session here this week, unanimously adopted the following resolutions endorsing the movement recently inaugurated by Judge O. W. Grubbs of our city:

"Resolved, that we favor the incorporation in the histories and other literature used in our public free schools, due recognition of our industrial pioneers and leaders for the inspiration of the youth to strive for the highest degree of industrial efficiency and to seek distinction in that way, rather than through the medium of military, political, professional and literary leadership."

Judge Leslie of Fannin county in speaking for the resolution, paid a glowing tribute to the achievements of Judge Grubbs, especially in the establishment of the College of Industrial Arts, of which he is everywhere regarded as the father, as well as of the industrial reform in Texas.

Whitney Convention Delegates Return.

Waco, Texas, Aug. 13.—O. P. Harris and wife and Messrs. Chesley Smith and Gip Perkins of this place, who have been in attendance at the democratic convention at Houston, returned this morning. Mr. Harris was assistant secretary at this convention, and he also sat in this capacity at the San Antonio convention.

WATER FOR COWS.

All animals require plenty of good, pure water. This is especially true of the milking cow, as water constitutes more than three-fourths of the volume of milk. The water supply, therefore, demands the dairyman's most careful attention. Stale or impure water is distasteful to the cow and she will not drink enough for maximum milk production. Such water may also carry disease germs which might make the milk unsafe for human consumption or be dangerous to the cow herself. During the winter, when cows are stabled the greater part of the time, and unless arrangements have been made to keep water before them all the time, they should be watered two or three times a day. If possible, the water should be fifteen or twenty degrees above the freezing point, and should be supplied at practically the same temperature every day. When water well above freezing temperature is stored in tanks, and piped direct to the cow, there is probably little occasion for facilities to warm the water. If it stands in a tank on which ice often forms, it usually pays well to warm it slightly. This can be done by a tank heater, by live steam, or by water from a boiler. If a boiler is used for running a separator or for heating water to wash and sterilize utensils, steam from it can readily and cheaply be used to warm the water.

Farmers' Bulletin 742.

Winter Dairying Pays Is Experience of Many

When asked why they preferred to move county many cows which freshened in the fall won a place on the association's honor list for January and continued to produce heavily during the winter. When grass came in the spring these same cows picked up their naturally waning milk flow and finished up with a good yearly production before going dry late in summer. What is still more important, however, from the point of view, is that the fall-freshened cows produced the larger part of their records while milk prices were best. With the common idea that "grass is a cheap feed," therefore, this agent would couple the fact that "butter fat is usually cheap at the same time."

The highest January record of this association was made by a cow which produced 1,730 pounds of milk, or approximately 200 gallons, 3.7 per cent test, or sixty-four pounds of butter fat. Her milk, however, was sold on a city milk route and brought twenty cents a gallon, or approximately $40 for the month. On the other hand, if the owner had sold his product on a butter-fat basis he still would have received $19.20. As it cost him $5.37 to feed the cow, his profit on a butter-fat basis would have been $13.83.

On this farm the cows get practically all the alfalfa hay and corn silage that they will eat up clean, and in addition a grain mixture of equal parts of rolled oats, bran, and shorts. Each of the heavier producers gets about ten pounds of this mixture daily. In addition to being well fed, the cows stand comfortably sheltered in a warm barn most of the time and have access to plenty of good water.

During the month six cows in this herd averaged 54.8 pounds of butter fat, worth more than $16, while the feed cost was approximately $5.37 apiece. The records kept by the cow tester gave the dairyman exact knowledge of the cost of feed and production in the case of each animal, and thus enabled him to cut out "boarders" and regulate his feed in proportion to the milk production of each cow. The association record for the farmer, however, seemed to establish the fact that, in the region mentioned, winter dairying can be made to pay.

What Workmen's Compensation Our Laws Cover

One of the many significant things to be learned from the review of decisions affecting labor, just published by the bureau of labor statistics, states the current issue of the Engineering Record, is that in every case decided in 1915 involving their constitutional workmen's compensation laws have been upheld. Since it is evident that such laws have come to stay, it is all the more important to follow their workings.

How liberally the courts are construing the phrase quoted may be judged from these cases: In New York the accident was construed as in the course of employment in the case of the driver of an ice wagon who was hurt while leaping from the seat to warn some boys off of the step. Death from heart trouble caused by lifting bags of coal, and death induced by the effort on the part of a steamboat cook to save effects from a sinking vessel, were held in Massachusetts to be in the course of employment. Minnesota courts placed in the same category the death of a wagon driver by lightning, and injuries received by a workman who was making a key, under an implied authority to do certain work in which the key would be of service. The California compensation law was successfully invoked in the case of an employee who was shot by an intruder, and one who was injured by the assault of a fellow workman.

Taking the decisions as a whole, concludes the Engineering Record, it seems safest to assume that almost anything that happens to an employee during working hours will be considered as having occurred in and arising out of the course of his employment.

Winter Dairying Pays Is Experience of Many

When asked why they preferred to own county many cows which freshened in the fall, a number of farmers in a northwestern state said positively that winter dairying did not pay in that section. The agent of the cow-testing association, therefore, investigated a number of farms to determine whether it was the best practice to keep many cows freshened in the spring because there is then plenty of grass, and "grass is a cheap feed." He found that the spring freshened cows gave milk for a time while the pasture was good, but as the weather and flies came on, the flow gradually decreased until by fall they usually were dry. As the owners thought it did not pay to feed a dry cow, the cows were allowed to browse around all the fall, picking up what feed they could, and in many cases they were forced to "rustle" around the straw pile all winter. As a result, in the spring many cows emerged with ribs showing and were considerably weakened by the time they freshened. They therefore got a poor start in the season, and in many cases their milk records the following year were still lower. It was the surprising fact that "butter fat is usually cheap at that time."

The highest January record of this association was made by a cow which produced 1,730 pounds of milk, or approximately 200 gallons, 3.7 per cent test, or sixty-four pounds of butter fat. The records kept by the cow tester gave the dairyman exact knowledge of the cost of feed and production in the case of each animal, and thus enabled him to cut out "boarders" and regulate his feed in proportion to the milk production of each cow. The association record for the farmer, however, seemed to establish the fact that, in the region mentioned, winter dairying can be made to pay.

THE PATH OF DUTY?

If Colquitt were as bold as he pretends to be, he would cast off the pretense that he is supporting Wilson, and declare for Hughes. On all things except votes for women, he is in exact accord with the republican platform and candidate. His untimely invective against the president and his policies is more generally used today by republicans in other states than any other campaign material. The main body of his support in Texas is derived from two sources: first, that element among the anti which believes the saloon is a good thing and ought to be perpetuated; second, that element which, above all other things, desires the defeat of Woodrow Wilson, because of his policy in dealing with the European war.

It would be a waste of space to multiply proofs that the strictly saloon man is for Colquitt, first, last and all the time; for Colquitt for anything he wants from emperor of all the kingdoms down; for Colquitt from now until doomsday. It would be equally wasteful to repeat the reasons why this is so. Everybody in Texas who reads and thinks, knows why the saloon is for Colquitt, and why Colquitt is for the saloon. They are birds of a feather, and they flock together.

The elements antagonistic to Wilson naturally flock to Colquitt for the reason they have nowhere else to go. Culberson is the democratic leader in the senate, closely attached to the president, and a staunch supporter of his policies.

It is enlightening to let the anti-Wilson element speak for itself. Der Hermannssohn is published in the German language at San Antonio, as the organ of the Sons of Hermann, a German fraternal organization. In its issue of July 26 this journal contains a leading editorial, of which the following is a translation:

"Our leaders disagree on whom should fall the honor of being our United States senator.

"But we believe the one man under the prevailing circumstances is already elected.

"The German-American wing of the anti-democratic faction seeks certainly a candidate who hitherto has worked actively and unselfishly with us and for us.

"Does our German-American citizenry possibly seek a candidate who warns himself in the sublimity of pro-English neutrality which radiate from Washington?"

"Can the Germans support the friend and favorite of an administration which, through its highest officers, throws suspicion on the most honorable patriots of the land as merely 'hyphenated Americans,' and places German loyalty on the same plane with English falsity?"

"German citizens! Unite your 60,000 votes on Senatorial Candidate Colquitt!"

"You have twice confided in him and twice elected him governor of Texas, and because he has justified in every way your confidence, it redounds to his and your honor to repose in him a third time this confidence in his capability, honor and independence of the machine in Washington."

"A word to the wise is enough."

Can any citizen of Texas soberly consider this appeal without finding in the white light which it casts the path of duty?

East Texas will hold a general conference at Mt. Pleasant on September 7 and 8 to consider means for the promotion of the livestock industry. It is called by the Texas Industrial Congress and the Mt. Pleasant Chamber of Commerce. Prof. Barrow, one of the officers of the Industrial Congress, forcefully says: "East Texas is the natural home of diversification, but it is questionable whether any diversification that does not include livestock will be permanent." Peaches, tomatoes, potatoes, cabbage, onions are all profitable, but a great district cannot be built up solely on such production. With livestock added, East Texas may become a rival of Central Texas for the appellation, "The Garden of the Lord."

Hughes complains because a man who was a confidential secretary to John G. Carlisle was let out of the federal service. If Hughes chooses to kick because the democratic party doesn't propose for centenarians or antiquarians to keep their feet in the trough forever, let him peg away. The folks with red blood in their veins will attend to that issue.

Hughes continues to talk about federal appointments in a vein which suggests that the principal motive behind his candidacy is a great hunger for the leaves and fishes.

Chairman Waples announces that the runners in the run-off are off. First quarter: Do you see C. F. Where is he?

TURNING TO WILSON.

It is an unconscious tribute to the humanity of the president that causes the nation to turn to him as the one hope to avert an industrial war that, if it shall come, will cause far greater property loss than would be the cost of a war with Mexico.

Negotiation and mediation have failed to secure agreement between the railroads and their employees. Collision and disaster seem unavoidable unless the president shall find a way out. All eyes now turn to him.

In this hour of industrial peril, it is well that there is at the helm a man whom all men trust. Woodrow Wilson is not infallible. He has confessed mistakes in the open, and sought to rectify them. The supreme test of any man is the degree of his consecration to the cause of right. The world knows that the president is trying to do right, and therefore it trusts him.

Calamity would soon be upon us with heavy tread if the only remaining influence for peace were a quibbler such as Hughes, or a bigot such as Roosevelt.

Dr. Brooks writes an inquiring friend that he will vote for Culberson. This follows as a matter of course. The most ardent champion of Colquitt would not expect Dr. Brooks to stand for the things for which Colquitt stands. And for this reason he has profound respect for Dr. Brooks.

If cotton climbs much higher, plain folks will soon have to go to wearing silks as a measure of economy.

The English navy is still fishing for the Deutschland, but the most reliable report is that it hasn't had a nibble.

It is a wise merchant who keeps his eye on cotton. As goes cotton, so goes trade.

Editorial Round-Up

Hard on the "Old-fashioned" Man.

The old-fashioned man who used to cool off by taking a drink from the jug of water at the end of the road now has a son who unbooks the Ford from the tractor and hikes off to town to get an ice cream soda.—Bonham Favorite.

Villa, a Suicide Specialist.

The most recent activity of Old Villa is to be suicide. Without Villa, both the United States and the de facto government of Mexico would be at a loss for rag-chewing. We only hope the old rascal will stay dead after the November election.—Colorado-Record.

"Chicken Doctor" the Latest.

The "chicken doctor" is now one of the specialties of remedial science. He attends to all the real and alleged ailments to which poultry is hatched and collects a fee just like the other doctors. We remember once being introduced to a young lady of rather unconventional impulses, as "Doctor V." whereupon she immediately asked, "Allopathic, homeopathic, divinity, law, horse or corn doctor?"—Colorado Record.

Same in Some Towns.

Filbert Hubbard was fond of illustrating the "union bug" operation among business men with a story of a visit he once paid to an insane hospital. In the vegetable garden, he found an attendant supervising the labor of a dozen or so physically powerful lunatics and he asked the attendant if he was never afraid of his charges. "Oh, yes," he said, "they are big fellows and you see they can't hurt me. They can't get together—they're crazy."

It Just Takes Too Much Time!

When you feel an almost uncontrollable desire stealing over you to say something mean about your fellow man, sit down, take pencil and paper and write the "union bug" operation of the party, then subtract therefrom all the bad you can think of and carefully consider the result. You will be surprised at this little sum in simple addition and subtraction and by that time you will have cooled off and won't feel like saying anything.—Mineral Wells Index.

"Stop the Expert Fee Grabbing."

Under the caption quoted above, the Chicago Journal makes an editorial protest against the practice of the city employing certain specialists to tell the city what to do in the matter of its public utilities. It goes on to name a number of these "experts" from the city, who have paid the sum of $281,162. The Journal's protest is made "in the name of the long suffering taxpayers of Chicago," and goes on to say that "it is a riot of 'expert' extravagance, and all the city gets out of it is a deluge of words, words, words." Chicago is sick of the payroll patriots. It is tired of "experts" who stick to the public till like a sick kitten to a warm brick.

Among the "experts" in the Journal's list is Prof. Edward W. Bemis, who up to January 24, 1916, was credited with receiving $32,000 for "services" from the city treasury. Professor Bemis is again in the employ of the city of Chicago, "experts" the books of the People's Gas Company. Personally, he is to receive $100 a day from the city and expenses. He is called for a corps of fifty-five assistants, messengers and stenographers, entailing an expense to the city, aside from his $100 a day, of about $7,000 a month, apportioned partly as follows:

Seven department engineers at $225 to $250 a month.

Five assistant engineers at $200 a month.

Five assistant engineers at $150 a month.

Eight junior engineers at $125 to $145 a month.

Two draftsmen at $90 to $100 a month.

Two cost analysts at $90 to $110 a month.

Two junior clerks at $70 to $100 a month.

Two inspectors at $70 to $100 a month.

One senior clerk at $140 a month.

Twenty field assistants at $70 to $125 a month.

This practice to which the Journal objects is not confined to any one city.—Public Service.

FIFTY BALES ALREADY MARKETED IN FALLS COUNTY THIS SEASON.

NO PLACE FOR CATLE TICKS

Agricultural Agent Busy Helping Farmers Get Dipping Vats All Over County.

Marlin, Aug. 13.—Interest in the fight of the cattle tick has developed rapidly in the last few days, and Agricultural Agent Chaney is having calls from all sections of the county for his services in locating and supervising the building of additional vats for dipping the cattle. Mr. Williams, a cattleman of Wilderville, stated that he had lost four head from tick fever in the last few days, and wanted to put in a dipping vat at once. Mr. Chaney is now supervising the building of vats for Talmage Bros., W. E. Johnson and R. A. Reed, and will begin one this week for W. J. Steele. J. G. Bargainer of Reagan has just completed one and successfully dipped two hundred head of cattle. Agent Chaney has issued a circular warning cattlemen to use preventive measures against the increased danger of the tick and states that from now until late fall the danger will increase.

Discouraging reports are coming in from many sections of the county as to the cotton condition. Boll weevil, sharpshooters and boll worms are stripping the plants of every square inch of cotton. The boll weevil is without boll or worm. This is asserted by quite a few farmers of this county. These insects have been unusually active for the past week.

Leslie Smith has just received notice from Vanderbilt university that he has been awarded a fourth year scholarship by that institution. His honor came as a reward for meritorious work.

Supt. A. C. Ferguson stated today that the county school teachers' institute would open here on September 4th, one week prior to the opening of the Marlin public schools.

D. R. Emerson has returned from the republican convention at San Antonio, and reports a great interest was shown and a determination to unseat President Wilson.

Miss Lollie Smith received a telegram today advising of her election as teacher of the domestic science class in the high school of Eureka, Utah. Miss Smith is a graduate of the C. I. A. and took past graduate course receiving the B. S. degree.

Walter Gresham of Galveston is visiting in Marlin.

City Marshal D. L. Wardlaw of Quanah is making a short visit in Marlin.

Jesse Ater and Henry Kelly left today for an automobile trip to the Llano country. They will be away about two weeks.

F. P. Hutchinson of Mexico stopped over for a short visit in Marlin yesterday while en route to Hico. He was joined here by his wife, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. W. D. Thomas, for the past week.

CAN FRUIT WITHOUT SUGAR.

Canning Specialists Says Boiling Water May Be Used Instead of Syrup.

Fruit for use in pies or salads or as stewed fruit can be put up on canned without the use of any sugar at all, according to the canning specialists of the department. They, therefore, advise those who, because of the high price of sugar, have been thinking of reducing the amount of fruit put up, to can as much of their surplus as possible by the use of boiling water when sugar syrup is beyond their means. Any fruit, they say, may be successfully sterilized and retained in the pack by simply adding boiling water instead of the hot syrup. The use of sugar, of course, is desirable in the canning of all kinds of fruits and makes a better and ready sweet product. Moreover, most of the fruits when canned in water alone do not retain their natural flavor, texture and color as well as fruit put up in syrup. Fruit canned without sugar may be used for sauces or desserts must be sweetened.

Can the product the same day it is picked. Cull, stem, or seed, and clean the fruit by placing it in a retainer and pouring water over it until it is clean. Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars or tin cans until they are full; use the handle of a tablespoon, wooden ladle, or a table knife for packing purposes. Pour over the fruit boiling water from a kettle, place rubbers and caps in position, partially seal if using glass jars, seal completely if using tin cans. Place the containers in a sterilizing vat, such as a wash boiler with a false bottom, or other receptacle improvised for the purpose. If using a hot-water bath outfit, process for thirty minutes, count time after the water has reached the boiling point; the water must cover the highest jar in container. After sterilizing remove packs, seal glass jars, wrap in paper to prevent bleaching, and store in a dry, cool place.

If you are canning in tin cans it will improve the product to plunge the cans quickly into cold water immediately after sterilizing. When using a steam-pressure canner instead of the hot-water bath, sterilize for ten minutes with five pounds of steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over ten pounds.

Many Students Teach School.

It has been estimated that more than 4,000 of the 21,000 teachers in Texas have been students at the University of Texas. Last year the appointment committee of the university secured positions for university students who had adopted that means of earning a living. This year the number will be probably even greater. The appointment committee does its work without charge to the students. The salaries paid to teachers secured by the appointment committee amounted last year to more than $300,000.

Y. M. B. L. Has a President Who Practices Diversification on 400-Acres With Success

Most people imagine that the business activities of Perry A. Duncan are confined entirely to his connection with one of the large concerns of this city and the presidency of the Young Men's Business League.

It is quite true that two jobs of that magnitude would be quite enough to satisfy the ambition of an ordinary man, but Perry is far from being an ordinary man. He is very extraordinary. He is the possessor of two traits of character that enable a man to do many things well. These two traits are "modesty" and "hustling ability."

So convinced was he of the distinct advantages to be obtained through the agency of diversification farming, that he immediately set about putting his ideas into execution on the farm mentioned above.

That he has made an admirable success of his experiment will be shown by a careful reading of the varied crops and livestock that he has raised this year. Getting the other fellow's goat has always been looked upon as a pleasant and sometimes profitable pastime. Mr. Duncan declares that he finds the raising of goats to be the most profitable investment on his farm. He has a fine flock of Angoras that annually net him 100 per cent profit. This magnificent profit is brought about by buying the goats at from $2.50 to $3.00 each. Each goat produces an average of one kid per year, and four pounds of wool, which sells for 20 cents per pound. The kid and the wool can be sold for the original price of the goat.

The cost of feeding the goats is absolutely nothing. They are turned loose in the wooded pasture where they clean up the thick underbrush, which in turn admits the sunlight and causes the grass to grow between the large trees, making more food for the goats. Mr. Duncan is strong for the goat, and says that every farmer who has any brush land on his farm ought by all means to raise a few goats.

BELIEVES IN BLOODED CATTLE.

In the same pasture grazed the goats there is a herd of graded jersey cattle, that have been raised at a cost that is hardly worth mentioning. The cattle are of such a high grade that Mr. Duncan finds a ready market for the calves at a very flattering price. He is opposed to the raising of old-fashioned cattle that eat as much as the blooded kind, and produce nothing but hide and bones. Forty head of Duroc Jersey hogs rove their living out of the waste places on the farm and are expected to convert themselves into a bunch of handsome greenbacks this fall, that will cause the pants pockets of their owner to bulge perceptibly.

There are also three brood mares on the place. Mr. Duncan believes that a few fine colts coming along each year will assist materially in keeping things on the move.

As a means of raising more live stock, a large site is now being planned. It will be large enough to provide winter feed for at least three times as much stock as there is on the place at present.

Cotton Futures Act as Re-Enacted Will Cause no Disturbance to Trade

Washington, Aug. 13.—The annual appropriation bill for the department of agriculture just passed by congress contains a re-enactment, effective September 1, 1916, of the United States cotton futures act, with a few changes. Section 11 of the present law, which taxes order book orders for the making of future contracts on foreign cotton exchanges unless certain conditions were complied with, will be omitted.

A new section known as 6a is inserted in the bill, which provides an optional contract under which parties may, by agreement, without being subject to tax, contract that under certain specified conditions the buyer may demand delivery of the basis grade named in the contract.

Another modification which will be of interest and assistance to the trader in agriculture, in case of disputes, to include in his findings, even though only one question be referred, a complete classification of the cotton for the purpose of delivery on future contracts. Under the old law, the authority of the secretary was confined to a determination of the specific question of grade, quality, or length of staple referred to him by the parties. In other words, if the dispute involved grade only, and the question was found to be gin-out, which is a question of quality, the secretary had no authority to include a statement as to gin-out in his findings.

Government officials in charge of the matter call special attention to the facts that the new act will not become effective until September 1, 1916, and that the old act of August 15, 1914, will remain in full force until the beginning of next month.

The rules and regulations of both the treasury and the agricultural departments, with slight modifications and additions necessitated by the changes made in the law, will be reissued shortly after approval of the bill by the president, so that there will be no disturbance whatever to the trade. The official cotton standards of the United States, heretofore established, will be readopted and promptly promulgated, so as to be in force when the new act becomes operative.

NATIONAL FARM LOAN BOARD VESTED WITH IMPORTANT DUTIES

The duties of the national farm loan board are equally as important as those of the federal reserve board, and each board supplements the other in a large measure. The farm loan board will work closely with the farmer, and provide for his needs as practically no other governmental body now does. Its chairman is George W. Norris of Philadelphia.

Washington, Aug. 13.—One of the first duties developing upon the national farm loan board is that of selecting sites for the location of the twelve federal banks. There is a great deal of rivalry already apparent for the location of these banks, and it is probable that much the same kind of a fight will be made for them as was made when the federal reserve system went into effect. There will be a determined effort to avert as far as possible the amount of dissatisfaction expressed after the federal reserve banks were located. The board will make a trip over the country and personally examine the proposed locations, and go into the matter with exhaustive thoroughness. The tour will include practically every state capital.

The chairman of the board, Mr. Norris, is one of the two democratic members of the board. Mr. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, is ex-officio chairman, but the legislation creating the board provides that the member designated as farm loan commissioner should be the executive head of the board. President Wilson designated Mr. Norris to fill this position.

All of the members of the board are men of large practical experience in agricultural affairs, one of the best known writers on such subjects in this country being Herbert Quick, one of the members. He has just published a series of articles dealing in the relation of the farmer to the bank, and is a technical expert in such matters.

corn could be raised in Texas in quantities that would pay. As a result of travel in other states and the constant studying of agricultural experiments made by the United States government, he became convinced that the prevailing crop methods in this section of the country were wrong and that there was vast room for improvement.

So convinced was he of the distinct advantages to be obtained through the agency of diversification farming, that he immediately set about putting his ideas into execution on the farm mentioned above.

That he has made an admirable success of his experiment will be shown by a careful reading of the varied crops and livestock that he has raised this year. SELLING COTTON IN SEED UNPROFITABLE FOR THE PRODUCER

DECLARED IMPOSSIBLE TO DETERMINE BEFORE GINNING THE QUALITY OF COTTON, AND PERCENTAGES OF LINT, SEED AND TRASH IT CONTAINS.

Washington, Aug. 13.—That the practice of selling cotton in the seed is responsible for serious losses to producers in many sections has been demonstrated by investigations by marketing specialists of the United States department of agriculture. It is impossible, it is said, to determine accurately before ginning the quality of cotton and the percentage of lint, seed and trash which it contains. In consequence, buyers of seed cotton base their prices on the average character of the cotton of the community and the farmer who produces better cotton than the average often obtains no reward. As a matter of fact, even the producers of average cotton suffer, for the buyer allows himself a wide margin of safety in making his quotations and purchases.

These facts are brought out in a number of tables just published in department bulletin No. 375, "Disadvantages of Selling Cotton in the Seed." This practice, while not as common as it once was, is still prevalent in certain sections, particularly in those regions in which cotton is a comparatively new crop or in which the production is comparatively scanty. For example, it is estimated that ninety per cent of Missouri's small crop was sold in the seed in 1915 and only two per cent of South Carolina's. The actual number of bales sold in this way, however, was greatest in Oklahoma, and for this reason, investigation, the results of which are to be found in the bulletin already mentioned, was made in that state.

In the course of this investigation a large number of samples of seed cotton were collected from loads sold by different farmers and in the case of each load ascertained. These samples were ginned and the relative proportions of lint, seed and trash determined. It was then possible to compare the returns which the farmers received for their cotton with what they would have obtained had they sold their lint and seed separately at the prevailing prices.

The samples showed a wide variation in the out-turn of lint, seed and trash. The variation, however, was rarely taken into account by the buyers, who, in the same market, on the same day, often offered the same price for all unginned cotton, irrespective of its quality.

Such discrimination as was exercised against the producer was not in the price which might be offered for cotton that was obviously below the average, but good cotton brought no more than the market rate.

This rate was in the majority of cases much below what the seed and lint would have brought had they been sold separately. Comparisons published in detail in the new bulletin show that this loss ranged from an average of $1.75 per bale for low yielding to an average of $7.60 per bale for good middling. The total loss on 185 bales of the white grades sampled by the investigators was $2,715.20, or an average of $14.63. In these calculations, it should be said, proper allowance was made for the cost of ginning. In some instances, it is true the farmer gained by selling his cotton in the seed, but these were far too few to alter the general result.

There is, moreover, another disadvantage inherent in the practice. Not only does the farmer lose in the marketing of any one crop, but he is seriously hindered in improving his cotton from year to year because there is no incentive to do so. As the buyer of seed cotton pays little or no attention to grade and staple the producer is forced to think chiefly of the yield per acre. Moreover, it is difficult, if not impossible, for the grower to obtain his own seed from the ginner for planting and he is, therefore, unable to maintain a pure variety. In the majority of markets about the only advantage in selling seed cotton, the investigator found, was the saving in the time of the men and teams that otherwise would have to await their turns at the gins. They recommend, therefore, that for the common good of all concerned the practice of selling cotton in the seed be discouraged and that each bale be custom ginned and sold upon its merits.

THE PATH OF DUTY?

If Colquitt were as bold as he pretends to be, he would cast off the pretense that he is supporting Wilson, and declare for Hughes. On all things except votes for women, he is in exact accord with the republican platform and candidate. His untimely invective against the president and his policies is more generally used today by republicans in other states than any other campaign material. The main body of his support in Texas is derived from two sources: first, that element among the ants which believes the saloon is a good thing and ought to be perpetuated; second, that element which, above all other things, desires the defeat of Woodrow Wilson, because of his policy in dealing with the European war.

It would be a waste of space to multiply proofs that the strictly saloon man is for Colquitt, first, last and all the time; for Colquitt for anything he wants from emperor of all the kingdoms down; for Colquitt from now until doomsday. It would be equally wasteful to repeat the reasons why this is so. Everybody in Texas who reads and thinks, knows why the saloon is for Colquitt, and why Colquitt is for the saloon. They are birds of a feather, and they flock together.

The elements antagonistic to Wilson naturally flock to Colquitt for the reason they have nowhere else to go. Culbertson is the democratic leader in the senate, closely attached to the president, and a staunch supporter of his policies.

It is enlightening to let the anti-Wilson element speak for itself. Der Herrmannssohn is published in the German language at San Antonio, as the organ of the Sons of Hermann, a German fraternal organization. In its issue of July 20 this journal contains a leading editorial, of which the following is a translation:

"Our leaders disagree on whom should fall the honor of being our United States senator.
"But we believe the one man under the prevailing circumstances is already elected.

"The German-American wing of the anti-democratic faction seeks certainly a candidate who hitherto has worked actively and unselfishly with us and for us.
"Does our German-American citizenship possibly seek a candidate who wears himself in the sunbeams of pro-English neutrality which radiate from Washington?"

"Can the Germans support the friend and favorite of an administration which, through its highest officers, throws suspicion on the most honorable patriots of the land as merely 'hyphenated Americans,' and places German loyalty on the same plane with English falsity?"

"German citizens! Unite your 60,000 votes on Senatorial Candidate Colquitt!"

"You have twice confided in him and twice elected him governor of Texas, and because he has justified in every way your confidence, it redounds to his and your honor to repose in him a third time this confidence in his capability, honor and independence of the machine in Washington."

"A word to the wise is enough."

Can any citizen of Texas soberly consider this appeal without finding in the white light which it casts the path of duty?

East Texas will hold a general conference at Mt. Pleasant on September 7 and 8 to consider means for the promotion of the livestock industry. It is called by the Texas Industrial congress and the Mt. Pleasant Chamber of Commerce. Prof. Barrow, one of the officers of the industrial congress, forcefully says: "East Texas is the natural home of diversification, but it is questionable whether any diversification that does not include livestock will be permanent." Peaches, tomatoes, potatoes, cabbage, onions are all profitable, but a great district cannot be built up solely on such production.
With livestock added, East Texas may become a rival of Central Texas for the appellation, "The Garden of the Lord."

Hughes complains because a man who was a confidential secretary to John G.
Carlisle was let out of the federal service. If Hughes chooses to kick because the democratic party doesn't propose for centenarians or antiquarians to keep their feet in the trough forever, let him peg away. The folks with red blood in their veins will attend to that issue.

Hughes continues to talk about federal appointments in a vein which suggests that the principal motive behind his candidacy is a great hunger for the leaves and fishes.

TURNING TO WILSON.

It is an unconscious tribute to the humanity of the president that causes
the nation to turn to him as the one hope to avert an industrial war that, if it shall come, will cause far greater property loss than would be the cost of a war with Mexico.

Negotiation and mediation have failed to secure agreement between the railroads and their employees. Collision and disaster seem unavoidable unless the president shall find a way out. All eyes now turn to him.

In this hour of industrial peril, it is well that there is at the helm a man whom all men trust. Woodrow Wilson is not infallible. He has confessed mistakes in the open, and sought to rectify them. The supreme test of any man is the degree of his consecration to the cause of right. The world knows that the president is trying to do right,
and therefore it trusts him.

Calamity would soon be upon us with heavy tread if the only remaining influence for peace were a quib-bler such as Hughes, or a bigot such as Roosevelt.

Dr. Brooks writes an inquiring friend that he will vote for Culbertson.
This follows as a matter of course.
The most ardent champion of Colquitt would not expect Dr. Brooks to stand for the things for which Colquitt stands. And for this reason he has profound respect for Dr. Brooks.

If cotton climbs much higher, plain folks will soon have to go to wearing silks as a measure of economy.

Hard on the "Old-fashioned" Man.

The old-fashioned man who used to cool off by taking a drink from the jug of water at the end of the corn row now has a son who unbooks the Ford from the tractor and hikes off to town to get an ice cream soda.—

Villa, a Suicide Specialist.

The most recent activity of old Villa is reported to be suicide. Without Villa, both the United States and the de facto government of Mexico would be at a loss for rag-chewing. We only hope the old rascal will stay dead till after the November election.—Colo-

"Chicken Doctor" the Latest.

The "chicken doctor" is now one of the democracies of remedial science. He attempts to all the real and alleged ailments to which poultry is hatched and collects a fee just like the other doctors. We remember once being introduced to a young lady of rather unconventional impulses, as "Doctor W."
whereupon she immediately asked,
"Allopathic, homeopathic, divinity, law,
horse or corn doctor?"—Colorado Rec-

Elbert Hubbard was fond of illustrating the value of co-operation among business men with a story of a visit he once paid to an insane hospital.

In the vegetable garden, he found an attendant supervising the labor of a dozen or so physically powerful lunatics and he asked the attendant if he was ever afraid of them. "No," he replied, "but you see they are big fellows. But you see they can't hurt me.
They can't get together—they're crazy."

It Just Takes Too Much Time!

When you feel an almost uncontrollable desire stealing over you to say something mean about your fellow man, sit down, take pencil and paper and add up the good you know of the party, then subtract therefrom all the bad you can think of and carefully consider the result. You will be surprised at the little sum in simple addition and subtraction and by that time you will have cooled off and won't feel like saying anything.—Mineral Wells Index.

"Stop the Expert Fee Grabbing."

Under the caption quoted above, the Chicago Journal makes an editorial protest against the practice of the city employing certain specialists to tell the city what to do in the matter of its public utilities. It goes on to name a number of these "experts" to whom in all the city has paid the sum of $391,162. The Journal's protest is made "In the name of the long suffering taxpayers of Chicago," and goes on to say that "it is a riot of expert extravagance, and all the city gets out of it is a deluge of words, words, words."
Chicago is sick of the payroll privileges. It is tired of "experts" who stick at the little sum in simple addition to a warm brick."

Among the "experts" in the Journal's list is Prof. Edward W. Bemis, who up to January 24, 1916, was credited with receiving $32,000 for "services" from the city treasury. Professor Bemis is again in the employ of the city of Chicago, "experts" the books of the People's Gas company. Personally, he is to receive $100 a day from the city and expenses. He calls for a corps of fifty-five assistants, messengers and stenographers, entailing an expense to the city, aside from his $100 a day, of about $7,000 a month, apportioned
partly as follows:

- Seven department engineers at $225
to $250 a month.
  - Five assistant engineers at $200 a
month.
  - Five assistant engineers at $150 a
month.
  - Eight junior engineers at $125 to $145 a month.
  - Two draftsmen at $90 to $100 a
month.
  - Three cost analysts at $90 to $110 a
month.
  - Two junior clerks at $70 to $100 a
month.
  - Two inspectors at $70 to $100 a
month.
  - One senior clerk at $140 a month.
  - Twenty field assistants at $70 to $125 a month.
- This practice to which the Journal objects is not confined to any one city.

SEASON.

NO PLACE FOR CATTLE TICKS

Agricultural Agent Busy Helping Farmers Get Dipping Vats All Over County.

Marlin, Aug. 13.—Interest in the fight of the cattle tick has developed rapidly
the last few days, and Agricultural Agent Chaney is having calls from all sections of the county for his services in locating and supervising the building of additional vats for dipping the cattle. Mr. Williams, a cattleman of Wilderville, stated that he had lost four head from tick fever in the last few days, and wanted to put in a dipping vat at once. Mr. Chaney is now supervising the building of vats for Talmage Bros., W. E. Johnson and R.
A. Reed, and will begin this week for W. J. Steele, J. G. Bargainer of Reagan has just completed one and successfully dipped two hundred head of cattle. Agent Chaney has issued a circular warning cattlemen to use preventive measures against the increased danger of the tick and states that from now until late fall the danger will increase.

Discouraging reports are coming in from many sections of the county as to the cotton condition. Boll weevil, sharpshooters and boll worms are stripping the plants of every square that forms and much of the young cotton is without boll or worm. This is assured by a few farmers of this county. These insects have been unusually active for the past week.

Leslie Smith has just received notice from Vanderbilt university that he has been awarded a fourth year scholarship by that institution. This honor came as a reward for meritorious work.

Supt. A. C. Ferguson stated today that the county teachers institute would open here on September 4th, one week prior to the opening of the Marlin public schools.

D. R. Emerson has returned from the republican convention at San Antonio, and reports a great interest was shown and a determination to unseat President Wilson.

Miss Lottie Smith received a telegram today advising her election to membership of the dental class in the high school of Eureka, Utah.
Miss Smith is a graduate of the C. I. A.
and took past graduate course receiving the B. S. degree.

A bale of cotton sold for $107.40,

yesterday. This is the highest price paid for one bale for years. About fifty bales have been marketed here to date.

W. W. Turner and Ike Aronson have returned from a fishing trip at Rockport. They report fine sport and lots of fish.

Walter Gresham of Galveston is visiting in Marlin.

City Marshal D. L. Wardlaw of Quannah is making a short visit in Marlin.

Jesse Ater and Henry Kelly left today for an automobile trip to the Llano country. They will be away about two weeks.

F. P. Hutchinson of Mexia stopped over for a short visit in Marlin yesterday while en route to Hico. He was joined here by his wife, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. W. D.
Thomas, for the past week.

CAN FRUIT WITHOUT SUGAR.

Canning Specialists Say Boiling Water
May Be Used Instead of Syrup.

Fruit for use in pies or salads or as stewed fruit can be put up on canned without the use of any sugar at all,
according to the canning specialists of the department. They, therefore, advise those who, because of the high price of sugar, have been thinking of reducing the amount of fruit they put up, to can as much of their surplus as possible by the use of boiling water when sugar syrup is beyond their means. Any fruit they may have successfully sterilized and retained in the pack by simply adding boiling water instead of the hot syrup. The use of sugar, of course, is desirable
in the canning of all kinds of fruits and makes a better and ready sweetened product. Moreover, most of the fruits when canned in water alone do not retain their natural flavor, texture and color as well as fruit put up on syrup. Fruit canned without sugar can be used for sauces or desserts must be sweetened.

Can the product the same day it is picked. "Cull, stem, or seed, and clean the fruit by placing it in a strainer and pouring water over it until it is clean.
Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars or tin cans until they are full;
use the handle of a tablespoon, wooden ladle or table knife for packing purposes. Pour over the fruit boiling water from a kettle, place rubbers and caps in position, partially seal if using glass jars, seal completely using steam pressure. Place the containers in a sterilizing vat, such as a wash boiler with a false bottom, or other receptacle improvised for the purpose. If using a hot-water bath outfit, process for thirty minutes; count time after the water has reached the boiling point; the water must cover the highest jar in container. After sterilizing remove packs, seal glass jars, wrap in paper to prevent bleaching, and store
in a dry, cool place.

If you are canning in tin cans it will improve the product to plunge the cans quickly into cold water immediately after sterilization. When using a steam pressure canner instead of the hot-water bath, sterilize for ten minutes with five pounds of steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over ten pounds.

Many Students Teach School.
It has been estimated that more than 4,000 of the 21,000 teachers in Texas last year were students at the University of Texas.
Last year the appointment committee of the university secured positions for 422 university students who had adopted that means of earning a living. This year the number will be probably even greater.
The appointment committee does its work without charge to the students. The salaries paid to teachers secured by the appointment committee amounted last year to more than $500,000.

Y. M. B. L. Has a President Who Practices Diversification
on 400-Acres With Success

Most people imagine that the business activities of Perry A. Duncan are confined entirely to his connection with one of the large concerns of this city and the presidency of the Young Men's Business League.

It is quite true that two jobs of that magnitude would be quite enough to satisfy the ambition of an ordinary man, but Perry is far from being an ordinary man. He is very extraordinary.
He is the possessor of two traits of character that enable a man to do many things well. These twin traits are "modesty" and "hustling ability."

So convinced was he of the distinct advantages to be obtained through the agency of diversified farming, that he immediately set about putting his ideas into execution on the farm mentioned above.

That he has made an admirable success of his experiment will be shown by a careful reading of the varied crops and livestock that he has raised this year.

Getting the other fellow's goat has always been looked upon as a pleasant and sometimes profitable pastime. Mr.
Duncan declares that he finds the raising of goats to be the most profitable investment on his farm. He has a fine flock of Angoras that annually net him 100 per cent profit. This magnificent profit is brought about by buying the goats at from $2.50 to $3.00 each. Each goat produces an average of one kid
per year, and four pounds of wool, which sells for 30 cents per pound. The kid and the wool can be sold for the original price of the goat.

The cost of feeding the goats is absolutely nothing. They are turned out into the wooded pasture where they clean up the thick underbrush, which in turn admits the sunlight and causes
the grass to grow between the large trees, making more food for the goats.
Mr. Duncan is strong for the goat, and says that every farmer who has any brush land on his farm ought by all means to raise a few goats.

BELIEVES IN BLOODED CATTLE.

In the same pasture with the goats
there is a fine herd of graded Jersey cattle, that have been raised at a cost that is hardly worth mentioning. The cattle are of such a high grade that Mr. Duncan finds a ready market for the calves at a very flattering price.
He is opposed to the raising of old-fashioned cattle that eat as much as the blooded kind, and produce nothing but hide and bones.

Forty head of Duroc Jersey hogs root their living out of the waste places on the farm and are expected to convert themselves into a bunch of handsome greenbacks this fall, that will cause the pants pockets of their owners to bulge perceptibly.

There are also three brood mares on the place. Mr. Duncan believes that a few fine colts coming along each year will assist materially in keeping things on the move.

As a means of raising more live stock, a large silo is now being planned. It will be large enough to provide winter feed for at least three times as much stock as there is on the place at present.

HAS VARIETY
TWENTY-THREE CROPS.

A stroll through the cultivated section of the farm discloses fine crops

of alfalfa, cotton, corn, sweet potatoes, maize, hay, peanuts, cow peas, sorghum, sweet and Japanese clover, and burr clover, peaches, plums, pears, Jap-
and wild persimmons, watermelons,
cantaloupes, peaches, plums, hickory
nuts, chestnuts, pecans and English walnuts. The pecan grove is worthy of special mention. There are more than 300 monster trees filled with nuts.
The trees form a natural picnic grove,
where Mr. and Mrs. Duncan entertain their Sunday visitors with fried chicken, watermelon chilled in the depths of a natural spring that is located near the farm house, and many other delectable dainties that fill a picnicer with completeness and delight.

Turkeys, chickens and guineas are raised in abundance. The guineas are declared by Mr. Duncan to be great destroyers of insects, particularly the boll weevil. They are permitted to run over the entire place, and as a result the farm has been entirely free of destructive insects all summer.

Twenty hives of bees gather the honey from the millions of beautiful wild flowers that abound in that section. This incidentally furnishes another source of farm income that is frequently overlooked by the Texas farmers.

In making contracts with his tenants, Mr. Duncan always insists upon the insertion of a clause requiring them to raise a garden large enough to sur-ply the tenant and his family with all the vegetables they can eat. He says he hates to look at a skinny tenant, and that furthermore they are unable to do a good day's work unless they have plenty of nourishment.

Clay Street Baptist Church.

Yesterday was a fine day for the Clay Street Baptist people. Pastor
W. D. Holland delivered a splendid message both morning and evening.

In the afternoon, twenty-eight of the members of the B. Y. P. U. went in automobiles to Leroy, where they delivered one of their regular programs at the Baptist church at that place. It was well attended and was greatly enjoyed by the young people and others present. Rev. Mr. Pryor, who was lately ordained by this church, is pastor at Leroy, and has just closed a very successful meeting there, with several additions to the church.

Altogether, the Clay Street Baptist church is getting its work well under way, and the members are everywhere pleased to do his part. All are invited to attend prayer meeting on Wednesday evening.

The duties of the national farm loan board and each board supplements the other in a large measure. The farm loan board will work closely with the farmer, and provide for his needs as practically no other governmental body now does. Its chairman is George W. Norris of Philadelphia.

Washington, Aug. 13.—One of the first duties devolving upon the national farm loan board is that of selecting sites for the location of the twelve land banks already apparent for the location of these banks, and it is probable that much the same kind of a fight will be made for them as was made when the federal reserve system went into effect. There will be a determined effort to avert as far as possible the amount of dissatisfaction expressed after the federal reserve banks were located. The board will make a trip over the country and personally examine the proposed locations, and go into the matter with exhaustive thoroughness. The tour will include practically every state capital.

The chairman of the board, Mr. Norris, is one of the two democratic members of the board. Mr. McAdoo, as secretary of the treasury, is ex-officio chairman, but the legislation creating the board provides that the member designated as farm loan commissioner shall be the executive head of the board. President Wilson designated

Mr. Norris to fill this position.

All of the members of the board are men of large practical experience in agricultural affairs, one of the best known writers on such subjects in this country being Herbert Quick, one of the members. He has just published a series of articles dealing in the relationship of the farmer to the bank, and is a technical expert in such matters.

WATCHED VERDUN FROM AIR.

Mort Homme Position Like a Boiling Kettle, Says Aviator.
(An American Aviator in the Saturday Evening Post.)

I flew with another aviator above the battle of Verdun. This was my first experience of flying under fire. There was a big artillery attack on the Mort Homme that day, and I had a chance to see a battle from above. The Mort Homme position looked to be more like a boiling kettle than anything else I can think of; and over it all hung a yellow mist. Several shrapnel shells burst near us.

At nine or ten thousand feet in the air one is almost deaf with air pressure, and the sharp crack of exploding shrapnel came to us only as a kind of a dull "whung." The whistling of the shells, which sounds so loud when you hear it from the ground, was scarcely audible to us at all. At those heights it is almost impossible to hear the loudest conversation. When it is necessary for you to have a talk with your observer, you close your nostrils by pinching your nose and blow out your ears with one sharp blast of breath. After that you can hear quite plainly for a minute or two; then the internal pressure gets you again. Incidentally, you are always stone deaf for a few minutes after landing.

CHRIST'S DELAY IS DR. DAWSON'S THEME

PASTOR FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
PREACHES ON PATIENCE OF
THE NAZARENE.

Dr. J. M. Dawson appeared in his pulpit at the First Baptist church yesterday morning after an absence of some weeks, having been engaged in revival meetings out of the city. The pastor said by way of announcement that the board of deacons at a recent meeting had informed him that his preaching was not desired for a time at least, and that he was expected to take a vacation for two weeks. Although Dr. Dawson will be away, the pulpit will be filled each Sunday as usual.

The theme of the morning sermon was the "Master's Delay," as mentioned in John 11:5-6, which speaks of Jesus' delay of two days, upon hearing of the sickness of his friend, Lazarus, after having been sent for by the relatives of the sick man. The speaker mentioned the limit to which the sisters of Lazarus had gone refraining from interfering with the ministry of the Master, although having faith in his ability to heal the sick. "Jesus was the last resource," said the speaker, "and then the messenger returned without an answer and without assistance. It was an hour of gloom. The answer was slow. I wonder if many of us are not Job-like, cursing the day in which we were born, when trouble overtakes us and relief is not swift? We can the more appreciate Moses, who had worked in the culture and development of his people, when he descended the mountain and found them in their nakedness dancing about the golden calf in idolatry. We are many times so impatient with evil and wonder why it persists. John preached that the ax was laid at the root of the tree, and then in his reform preaching was sent to prison. In the trial of adversity he appealed to Christ, 'Art thou he, or shall we look for another?' The minister said the appeal of Mary and Martha brought them close to us, 'for our experiences are so much like theirs.'

"The motive of the Master in the delay was love," states the Scriptures," said Dr. Dawson, "and that love was omniscient, but the Master did not see fit to let that motive be known. Moreover, the love was not inactive, but busy in the fulfillment of its purpose. Indeed, all delays are motivated by love. The delay is not inactivity and idleness, but action for the betterment of him who is waiting." The minister illustrates the childish impatience of the average person in the story of the little boy who prayed for the healing of his cut finger, and upon finding the member not immediately healed, said, 'Lord, is that the best you can do?' The application was forcibly impressed, the speaker adding that time was required in the performance of God with humanity. Dr. Dawson avowed that no delay and no suffering comes without a deeper insight into the secrets of a better and fuller life.

"The love here displayed was unfeigned. Enemies beset the way of the Master, but He went. The love was not tardy. God's clock may be different from ours, but it keeps good time. We sometimes give up when the answer to our prayers is being worked out for us. The world was long in the creating, if geology is true. Salvation is a long process, including past, present and future—the blotting out of the past, the sanctifying process of the present and the glorification of the future. This incident meant to those present and those concerned the creation of love, regard, patience and sympathy. Goethe said, 'Everything of ill I have suffered' has turned into a poem." These are some of the comments on the text by the pastor.

"This incident brought a larger faith, and faith was a most vital thing in the mind of Christ. Faith to Him was a fundamental. Faith must be tested that it may grow. Martha believed but halted. Your faith tested generates greater faith. Abraham in the experience of offering his son, saw more than he expected. Though there he was without sin. As God created him he was without sin. God's inability to keep the law fully is not God's fault.

CHRIST'S LAUGH AT RESPECT FOR LAWS

SAVIOR WENT AMONG MEN AND
INSPIRED THEM IN FULFILLING
THE MORAL LAW.

"Our Relations to the Moral Law," was the theme of an interesting sermon by Rev. M. B. Quill at the Lutheran church yesterday morning. He spoke in part as follows:

There were those at the time of Christ who thought that the coming of Christ would relieve them of obedience to the law. Christ corrects this erroneous opinion in the "Sermon on the Mount"—particularly in that part of this sermon recorded by Matthew in chapter 5, verses 17 to 19. "Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets. I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill. For verily I say unto you, till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law till all be fulfilled. Whosoever, therefore, shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven. But whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven." This is a statement of Christ's relation to the moral law.

There were those who would have welcomed greater personal liberty than that given them by the law of Moses and the precepts of the "Prophets." They were not the children of God. His will was a restraint upon them, and which they chafed. They cherished the hope that Christ would relieve them by putting the law out of force. They were disappointed as all such will be. Christ came not to destroy but to fulfill the law. The Pharisees believed that they fulfilled the law when they obeyed the letter and taught men so, but Christ fulfilled also the spirit of every letter.

CHRIST OBEYED LAW PERFECTLY.

The spirit of the law is the reason thereof. Christ led a life which perfectly fulfilled the law. That, however, which was most prominent in the mind of our Lord when he spoke these words of our text in regard to fulfilling the law was the teaching of the law in its fullness. Our text is the theme of the great sermon on the mount in this sermon Christ explains the law of Moses and the precepts of the prophets according to its deep inner meaning. "To be angry with your brother is murder. To lust after a woman is adultery, etc. Not the letter alone but the spirit of the law is to be fulfilled. This is the relation of Christ to the moral law of God. As Christians this must be our relation to the moral law. It must be fulfilled in life and doctrine. St. James informs us that a faith without works is dead, consequently cannot save us.

OBEEDIENCE SHOULD BE GOAL.

Is there any one among us who wishes that Christ had come to destroy the law? Do we wish that the law of God were different? Do we chafe under its restraints and? Is there something in our life which is suspicious and we are trying to excuse it by calling it our Christian liberty? Is not deceived. There is something wrong with our relation to Christ. Let us strive for greater holiness. Let us not look anxiously for the time when we may be relieved of obedience to the will of God. Christ is not so. More to the point, it reveals ignorance as to the nature of God's law. For "till heaven and earth pass, one jot or tittle shall in no wise pass from the law till all be fulfilled. To fulfill the law must be our earnest endeavor, and our eternal wealth on our relation to the moral law for our relation proves whether we have faith or not.

Whoever shall do one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven. Who will not commit a sin that they think is a great sin. They would shudder at the thought of killing a person, but yet they are guilty of a violation of the same commandment. They would not open against a man again, but they rob him of any of his glory and yet they teach "Be good and you will be saved." These are very serious things, not in all the things which are written in the book of the law to do them. It is not sufficient to be of good reputation, law-abiding citizens, and members of a Christian congregation. There are those who teach "God is merciful, he will forgive you till all be fulfilled. He is just and will not require more than we are able to do." Those who teach among us, "use any means who have not done all the good that they are able. Must we not all confess that we have had opportunities to do good, which we have not made the proper use of? And we have done evil when we could have avoided it. God is merciful, full of compassion and loving. He is just but he is also perfectly righteous. He cannot tolerate sin. As God created him he was without sin. God's inability to keep the law fully is not God's fault.

KEEP THE SPIRIT OF THE LAW.

He that breaks the least commandment and teaches men so shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven. He shall not enter at all. God's demands are very explicit on this subject. Do this and you shall live. If you do not, you shall surely die. The law must be fulfilled. And whosoever shall do and teach the law in fullness shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

Christ verily fulfilled the law. Even his enemies must give him the testimony. Pilate says: "I find no fault in him." The centurion says, "Certainly this was a righteous man. He was God, but became man, subject to the law. As by one man's disobedience many were made sinners so by one man's obedience many were made righteous. It was for us that Christ fulfilled the law. The law had been broken. God's justice required that full atonement be made and sent his own Son to make atonement. "He was wounded for our iniquities and bruised for our iniquities. The chastisement of our peace was upon him and with his stripes we are healed." Christ on the cross says, "It is finished." The atonement was accomplished. The law fulfilled and satisfaction for all transgressions.

UNDER GRACE, NOT THE LAW.

We are no longer under the law but under grace. What then? Shall we sin because we are not under the law? God forbid. For Christ gave himself for us that he might redeem us and purify unto himself a peculiar people zealous of good works. This must be our relation to Christ. Through his atonement full of good works. Having accepted his atonement we are no longer incompetent to do good. Before conversion we can do no good. After conversion we must do good.

Dear friends, have you accepted Christ as your savior? If you have not, may God in mercy open your eyes to see your deplorable condition and cause you to turn to him for forgiveness of sins. And you my dear friends, who have accepted Christ, remember that he came not to destroy the law but to fulfill it. The eyes of the world are upon you. Are you letting your light shine? Examine yourself closely in the light of the law of God and in the light of the explanation of it found in the sermon on the mount. Alas, many Christians live so as to bring shame upon the church of Christ and cause the name of God to be blasphemed among the gentiles. May God help us to let our light shine. Amen.

"The Half-Breed."

A five-reel drama with little comedy and much real heart interest is the next vehicle for the versatile talents of Douglas Fairbanks. This is a pictured version of Bret Harte's great story "In the Carquinez Woods." Fairbanks' personality to act a dramatic role will be dispelled when the picture is seen. As Lo, the poor half-breed, he is a pathetic yet admirable character, and he is also a very human one. Pretty Jewel Carmen and dark-eyed Alm Reubens have splendid parts in the picture, and Sam De Grasse, Frank Brownlee and George Beranger give splendid support. There are many big scenes in the production which are characteristic of the Triangle feature, one being the great forest fire.

Lo Dormante is the son of a white man and an Indian girl, despised by the Indians and looked down upon by the white people. He is reared and taught by an old botanist in the woods, but when the old man dies the whites go to Lo and turn him out of the little house, telling him that Indians are not allowed to own property in that neighborhood. Alone and despised, Lo goes to the Carquinez woods where he lives in the hollow of an immense tree. In the village one day he sees a pretty daughter of the minister and falls in love with her. In her fickleness she encourages him, and Lo is further persecuted by the young whites. They point out to him a woman of the dance hall and tell him only that kind are for Indians. Then it is that one of that kind comes fleeing to the Carquinez woods and the resultant story is one of splendid appeal and interest.

QUEEN.

Clara Kimball Young in "Marrying Money."
World Film corporation presents the comedy photoplay "Marrying Money," in which Clara Kimball Young is starred.

Miss Young's versatility will have a chance of showing itself to advantage in this film; she is equally at home in comedy roles as well as dramatic. The story of "Marrying Money" is a satire upon matrimony, nothing more nor less. It reveals the marriage game, as it is frequently played, in all its unmistakable cynicism and baseness, although it does not overlook the humorous side of the matter.

James Young is the director of this picture, into which he has introduced many excellent touches that heighten the effect of the comedy which is sure to place motion picture fans.

"Marrying Money" will be shown at the Queen theatre today, one day only.

sweeping over the country is reflected in the Dixon-Herbert grand opera cinema "The Fall of a Nation," at the Orpheum three days beginning tonight.

In this novel offering the awful consequences of national shiftlessness will be presented, together with the real hope of America—is indomitable, manly youth and the martyr-like spirit of its women. The problem among many others is suggested: What would you do if a foreign imperialist invader ordered "Three cheers for the emperor?"

In the play the redoubtable American boy, Billy Holland, answers: "Hurrah for the president of the United States! Down with all emperors!" The next moment he is stood against a blank wall and shot.

Deeply poignant scenes like this are mingled with the martial splendor of the grandiose depiction of modern warfare, in the first and second acts. Americans will here realize for the first time the terrible potential effects of a nation's helplessness. Forty-two centimeter guns are shown destroying the American positions, while the invading gunners are half a mile out of our range. The ease of capturing national guard armies, which today are undefended by armed guards, is illustrated. And a potent love story helps to strike the keynote of patriotism. Lastly, a supreme sacrifice of a nation's helplessness. Forty-two centimeter guns are shown destroying the American positions, while the invading gunners are half a mile out of our range. ### WATCHED VERDUN FROM AIR.

Mort Homme Position Like a Boiling Kettle, Says Aviator.

I flew with another aviator above the battle of Verdun. This was my first experience of flying under fire.

There was a big artillery attack on the Mort Homme that day, and I had a chance to see a battle from above. The Mort Homme position looked to be more like a boiling kettle than anything else I can think of; and over it all hung a yellow mist. Several shells burst near us.

At nine or ten thousand feet in the air one is almost deaf with air pressure, and the sharp crack of exploding shrapnel came to us only as a kind of a dull "whung." The whistling of the shells, which sounds so loud when you hear it from the ground, was scarcely audible to us at all. At those heights it is almost impossible to hear the loudest conversation. When it is necessary for you to have a talk with your observer, you close your nostrils by pinching your nose and blow out your ears with one sharp blast of breath. After that you can hear quite plainly for a minute or two; then the internal pressure gets you again. Incidentally, you are always stone deaf for a few minutes after landing.

CHRIST'S DELAY IS DR. DAWSON'S THEME

PREACHES ON PATIENCE OF
THE NAZARENE.

Dr. J. M. Dawson appeared in his pulpit at the First Baptist church yesterday morning after an absence of some weeks, having been engaged in revival meetings out of the city. The pastor said by way of announcement that the board of deacons at a recent meeting had informed him that his preaching was not desired for a time at least, and that he was expected to take a vacation for two weeks. Although Dr. Dawson will be away, the pulpit will be filled each Sunday as usual.

The theme of the morning sermon was the "Master's Delay," as mentioned in John 11:5-6, which speaks of Jesus' delay of two days, upon hearing of the sickness of his friend, Lazarus, after having been sent for by the relatives of the sick man. The speaker mentioned the line in which the sisters of Lazarus had gone refraining from interfering with the ministry of the Master, although having faith in his ability to heal the sick. "Jesus was the last resource," said the speaker, "and then the messenger returned without an answer and without assistance. It was an hour of gloom. The answer was slow. I wonder if many of us are not Job-like, cursing the day in which we were born, when trouble overtakes us and relief is not swift? We can more appreciate Moses, who had worked in the culture and development of his people, when he descended the mountain and found them in their nakedness dancing about the golden calf in idolatry. We are many times so impatient with evil and wonder why it persists. John preached that the ax was laid at the root of the tree, and then in his reform preaching was sent to prison. In the trial of adversity he appealed to Christ. 'Art thou he, or shall we look for another?' The minister said the appeal of Mary and Martha brought them close to us, 'for our experiences are so much like theirs.'

"The motive of the Master in the delay was love, states the Scriptures," said Dr. Dawson, "and that love was omniscient, but the Master did not see fit to let that motive be known. Moreover, the love was not inactive, but busy in the fulfillment of its purpose. Indeed, all delays are motivated by love. The delay is not inactivity and idleness, but action for the betterment of him who is waiting." The minister illustrates the childish impatience of the average person in the story of the little boy who prayed for the healing of his cut finger, and upon finding the member not immediately healed, said, "Lord, is that the best you can do?" The application was forcibly impressed, the speaker adding that time was required in the performance of God with humanity. Dr. Dawson avowed that no delay and no suffering comes without a deeper insight into the secrets of a better and fuller life.

"The love here displayed was untried. Enemies beset the way of the Master, but he went. The love was not tardy. God's clock may be different from ours, but it keeps good time. We sometimes give up when the answer to our prayers is being worked out for us. The world was long in the creating, if geology is true. Salvation is a long process, including past, present and future—the blotting out of the past, the sanctifying process of the present and the glorification of the future. This incident meant to those present and those concerned the creation of love, regard, patience and sympathy. Goethe said, 'Everything of ill I have suffered' has turned into a poem." These are some of the comments on the text by the pastor.

"This incident brought a larger faith, and faith was a most vital thing in the mind of Christ. Faith to Him was a fundamental. Faith must be tested that it may grow. Martha believed, but halted. Your faith tested generates greater faith. Abraham in the experience of offering his son, saw more than he expected. Though there be seeming delay, hold on to God, for there is activity for the accomplishment of your good," was the minister's appeal.

CHRIST TAUGHT MAN RESPECT FOR LAWS

SAVIOR WENT AMONG MEN AND
INSPIRED THEM IN FULFILLING
THE MORAL LAW.

"Our Relations to the Moral Law," was the theme of an interesting sermon by Rev. M. B. Quill at the Lutheran church yesterday morning. He spoke in part as follows:

There were those at the time of Christ who thought that the coming of Christ would relieve them of obedience to the law. Christ corrects this erroneous opinion in the "Sermon on the Mount"—particularly in that part of this sermon recorded by Matthew in chapter 5, verses 17 to 19. "Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets. I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill. For verily I say unto you, till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law till all be fulfilled. Whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. But whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. This is a statement of Christ's relation to the moral law.

There were those who would have welcomed greater personal liberty than that given them by the law of Moses and the precepts of the "Prophets." They were not the children of God. His will was a restraint upon them under which they chafed. They cherished the hope that Christ would relieve them by putting the law out of force. They were disappointed as all such will be Christ came not to destroy but to fulfill the law. The Pharisees believed that they fulfilled the law when they observed the letter and taught men so, but Christ fulfilled also the spirit of every letter.

CHRIST OBEYED LAW PERFECTLY.

The spirit of the law is the reason thereof. Christ led a life which perfectly fulfilled the law. This is the reason which was most prominently in the mind of our Lord when he spoke these words of our text. In regard to the law, the law was the teaching of the law in its fullness. Our text is the theme of the great sermon on the mount. In this sermon Christ explains the law of Moses and the precepts of the prophets according to its deep inner meaning. To the angry with your brother is murder. To lust after a woman is adultery, etc. Not the letter alone but the spirit of the law is to be fulfilled. This is the relation of Christ to the moral law of God. As Christians this must be our relation to the moral law. It must be fulfilled in life and doctrine. St. James informs us that a faith without works is dead, consequently cannot save us.

OBEDIENCE SHOULD BE GOAL.

Is there any one among us who wishes that Christ had come to destroy the law? Do we wish that the law of God were different? Do we chafe under its restraints and indulge in sin? Is there something in our life which is unlawful and we are trying to excuse it by calling it our Christian liberty? Is not deceived. There is something wrong with our relation to Christ. Let us strive after greater holiness. Let us not look anxiously for the time when we may be relieved of our eternal law of God. It is un-Christian to do so. Moreover it reveals ignorance as to the nature of God's law. "Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. To fulfill the law, till all be fulfilled, and our eternal law of God or woe depends on our relation to the moral law for our relation proves whether we have faith or not.

Whosoever shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven. There are many who will not commit a sin that they think is a great sin. They will not commit a sin that will bring a person and yet they become angry with a person without cause, which is a violation of the same commandment. They would not openly rebel against the sixth commandment but permit themselves to harbor licentious thoughts. They would spare their own souls from robbing him of any of his glory and yet they teach "Be good and you will be saved." They would not in all the things which are written in the book of the law to do them. It is not sufficient to be of good reputation, law abiding, citizens, and members of a Christian congregation. There are those who teach "God is merciful. He will overlook our sins and our misery. He is just and will not require more than we are able to do." Those who teach thus are usually among those who have not done all the good that they are able. Must we not all confess that we have had opportunities to do good which we have not made the proper use of? And we have done evil when we could have avoided it. God is merciful, full of compassion and loving. He is just but he is also perfectly righteous. He cannot tolerate sin. As God created man he was without sin. Man's inability to keep the law fully is not God's fault.

KEEP THE SPIRIT OF THE LAW.

He that breaks the least commandment and teaches men so shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven. He shall not enter all. God's demands are very explicit on this subject. Do this and you shall live. If you do not you shall surely die. The law must be fulfilled. And whosoever shall do and teach the law in fullness shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. Christ perfectly fulfilled the law. Even his enemies must give him this testimony. Pilate says: "I find no fault in him." The centurion says: "Certainly this was a righteous man." He was God, but became man subject to the law. As by one man's disobedience many were made sinners so by one man's obedience many were made righteous. It was for us that Christ fulfilled the law. The law had been broken. God's justice required that full atonement be made and sent his own bosom son to make atonement. "He was wounded for our transgressions and bruised for our iniquities. The chastisement of our peace was upon him and with his stripes we are healed." Christ on the cross says, "It is finished." The atonement was accomplished. The law fulfilled and satisfaction for all transgressions.

UNDER GRACE, NOT THE LAW.

We are no longer under the law but under grace. What then? Shall we sin because we are not under the law? God forbid. For Christ gave himself for us that he might redeem us and purify unto himself a peculiar people zealous of good works. This must be our relation to Christ. Through his atonement full of good works. Having accepted his atonement we are no longer incompetent to do good. Before conversion we can not do good. After conversion we must do good. Dear friends, have you accepted Christ as your savior? If you have not, may God in mercy open your eyes to see your deplorable condition and cause you to turn to him for forgiveness of sins. And you my dear friends, who have accepted Christ, remember that he came not to destroy the law but to fulfill it. The eyes of the world are upon you. Are you letting your light shine? Examine yourself closely in the light of the law of God and in the light of the explanation of it found in the sermon on the mount. Also many Christians live so as to bring shame upon the church of Christ and cause the name of God to be blasphemed among the gentiles. May God help us to let our light shine. Amen.

HIPPODROME.

"The Half-Breed."

A five-reel drama with little comedy and much real heart interest is the next vehicle for the versatile talents of Douglas Fairbanks. This is a pictured version of Bret Hart's story "In the Carquinez Woods," and under the name of the "Half-Breed" will show at the Hippodrome today and Tuesday. Fairbanks is very much Fairbanks in this offering, for his irresistible personality cannot be effaced. But his role is that of drama and sympathy impelling characterization, and not of farce comedy, as has usually been the case. Any doubt that may have been prevalent about Mr. Fairbanks' personality to act a dramatic role will be dispelled when the picture is seen. As Lo, the poor half-breed, he is a pathetic yet admirable character, and he is also a very human one. Pretty Jewel Carmen and dark-eyed Alm Reubens have splendid parts in the picture, and Sam De Grasse, Frank Brownlee and George Beranger give splendid support. There are many big scenes in the production which are characteristic of the Triangle picture, one being the great forest fire. Lo Dormante is the son of a white man and an Indian girl, despised by the Indians and looked down upon by the white people. He is reared and taught by an old Indian in the woods, and when the old man dies the whites go to Lo and turn him out of the little home, telling him that Indians are not allowed to own property in that neighborhood. Alone and despised, Lo goes into the Carquinez woods where he lives in the hollow of an immense tree. In the village no one sees the pretty daughter of the minister and falls in love with her. In her fickleness she encourages him, and in further proof is seduced by the young whites. They point out to him a woman of the dance hall and tell him only that kind are for Indians. Then it is that one of that kind comes fleeing to the Carquinez woods, and the resultant story is one of splendid appeal and interest.

Clara Kimball Young in "Marrying Money."

World Film corporation presents the comedy playlet "Marrying Money," in which Clara Kimball Young is starred. Miss Young's versatility will have a chance of showing itself to advantage in this film; she is equally at home in comedy roles as well as dramatic. The story of "Marrying Money" is a satire upon matrimony, nothing more nor less. It reveals the marriage game, as it is frequently played, in all its unmistakable cynicism and baseness, although it does not overlook the humorous side of the matter.

James Young is the director of this picture, into which he has introduced many excellent touches that heighten the effect of the comedy which is sure to please motion picture fans.

"Marrying Money" will be shown at the Queen theatre today, one day only.

sweeping over the country is reflected in the Dixon-Herbert grand opera cinema "The Fall of a Nation," at the Orpheum three days beginning tonight. In this novel offering the awful consequences of national shiftlessness will be presented, together with the real hope of America—its indomitable, manly youth and the martyr-like spirit of its women. The problem among many others is suggested in what would you do if a foreign imperialist invader ordered "Three cheers for the emperor?"

In the play the redoubtable American boy, Billy Holland, answers: "Hurrah for the president of the United States! Down with all emperors!" The next moment he is stood against a blank wall and shot.

Deeply poignant scenes like this are mingled with the martial splendors, the grandiose depiction of modern warfare, in the first and second acts. Americans will here realize for the first time the terrible potential effects of a nation's helplessness. Forty-two-centimeter guns are shown destroying the American positions, while the invading gunners are half a mile out of our range. The ease of capturing national guard armories, which today are undefended by armed guards, is illustrated. And a potent love story helps to strike the keynote of patriotism. Lastly, a supreme sacrifice of the womenfolk, through a mystic order called "The Daughters of Jael," restores conquered America to its rightful possessors.

Farm Horses Indispensable.

Today, when the tractor is coming into favor as a source of farm power, there are those wild-eyed extremists who would have us believe that the horse is bound to be abolished from the farm. This same propaganda was preached at the time when steam power replaced horse power for driving the old-time threshers. As a result of this recent awakening in favor of tractor power, horse breeders have become alarmed again at what seems to be a direct blow at their business.

Horses have been the farmers' helpers and companions when the stress of farm work was greatest. They have been a part of his big farm household in which family ties really exist, and it may be said that he has perhaps resented, for this reason, the very idea that he should go back on his friends and replace them with a mechanical substitute.

With all of our automobiles and tractors, no sane man should make the claim that there is no need of horses on the farm. There is a great amount of work which the horse can do well. For instance, in cultivating growing crops, like corn, where the work is light and where the natural instinct of the horse can be trained to follow the row and allow the farmer to attend strictly to the job of getting rid of weeds, no tractor of the present stage of development can be said to be in competition with the horse. For the small garden or truck patch the horse will always have first call.

Stop! Mr. Farmer

and Listen to This

Do you know that the Waco Morning News can reach over 9000 farmers within three to six hours after the paper is off the press?

These 9000 farmers live within a radius of forty miles of Waco. Are you one of them? Here are the names of the towns which have the 81 routes on which these 9000 farmers live:

WACO	VALLEY MILLS	EDDY	RIESEL
WEST	CORYELL	TROY	AXTELL
ABBOTT	MOSHAIN	CHILTON	MT. CALM
HILLSBORO	LORENA	LOTT	DELIA
M'GREGOR	HEWITT	TRAVIS	HUBBARD

In addition to the above twenty-six towns from which these eighty-one routes radiate, the News has thirty-one other towns in a radius of fifty-five miles of Waco which the News reaches before 11 o'clock each morning, but reaches too late for the rural routes thereof. The Morning News has now established a special rural route edition for farmers only, at $2.25 a year. This is less than one-half the price of any other daily paper in the state of Texas, that carries Associated Press news. This paper is printed every morning at 4 o'clock and will be delivered to your farm home before noon on the same day it is printed, providing you live on any route out of the above mentioned towns. This special rate is for six days a week, Sunday excluded, for $2.25 a year, or, if you prefer, five months for $1.00; or the daily and Sunday one year for $5.00. From now until December 1, you can receive both daily and Sunday News for $1.25.

Can you beat it? The Waco Morning News reaches you first each morning while the news is hot. The Morning News office is on the same Associated Press leased wire service with all the big high-priced dailies of the state of Texas, and receives the same news, word for word. These other state dailies reaching this section of Texas simultaneously with the News are printed the evening before and pre-dated, or are printed at 1 a. m., and are incomplete papers, while the Waco Morning News gives you the news of the world right off the wire up to 4 a. m. of the morning of the day you receive your paper—twelve hours later and fresher than you receive from pre-dated papers. The Morning News gives you real news of the world, of the state and nation and of your section of the state, in a concise, condensed form, just as it happens.

The price of the Morning News to you now at the above rate is only 4 cents a week. How can you, Mr. Farmer, afford to turn this proposition down? This year of 1916 is a wonderful year. A United States president is to be elected, the political pot is now boiling over the state, the European war furnishes important news articles, the Mexican situation is still somewhat critical, Congress is in session. With these and many other important things going on, you should have the Morning News to keep abreast with the times. The offer of $2.25 a year or $1.00 for five months is only open to people living on the rural routes and is a remarkably low price. In order to take advantage of this offer, you can clip out the coupon in this advertisement and mail it, together with your remittance, to the Circulation Department of the Waco Morning News. Do it now. This offer is open to old as well as new subscribers.

STOP! Mr. Farmer

and Listen to This

Do you know that the Waco Morning News can reach over 9000 farmers within three to six hours after the paper is off the press?

These 9000 farmers live within a radius of forty miles of Waco. Are you one of them? Here are the names of the towns which have the 81 routes on which these 9000 farmers live:

WACO	VALLEY MILLS	EDDY	RIESEL
WEST	CORYELL	TROY	AXTELL
ABBOTT	MOSHAIN	CHILTON	MT. CALM
HILLSBORO	LORENA	LOTT	DELIA

In addition to the above twenty-six towns from which these eighty-one routes radiate, the News has thirty-one other towns in a radius of fifty-five miles of Waco which the News reaches before 11 o'clock each morning, but reaches too late for the rural routes thereof. The Morning News has now established a special rural route edition for farmers only, at $2.25 a year. This is less than one-half the price of any other daily papers in the state of Texas, that carries Associated Press news. This paper is printed every morning at 4 o'clock and will be delivered to your farm home before noon on the same day it is printed, providing you live on any route out of the above mentioned towns. This special rate is for six days a week, Sunday excluded, for $2.25 or, if you prefer, five months for $1.00; or the regular and Sunday one year for $5.00. From now until December 1, you can receive both daily and Sunday News for $1.25.

Can you beat it? The Waco Morning News reaches you first each morning while the news is hot. The Morning News office is on the same Associated Press leased wire service with all the big high-priced dailies of the state of Texas, and receives the same news, word for word. These other state dailies reaching this section of Texas simultaneously with the News are printed the evening before and pre-dated, or are printed at 1 a. m., and are incomplete papers, while the Waco Morning News gives you the news of the world right off the wire up to 4 a. m. of the morning of the day you receive your paper—twelve hours later and fresher than you receive from pre-dated papers. The Morning News gives you real news of the world, of the state and nation and of your section of the state, in a concise, condensed form, just as it happens.

The price of the Morning News to you now at the above rate is only 4 cents a week. How can you, Mr. Farmer, afford to turn this proposition down? This year of 1916 is a wonderful year. A United States president is to be elected, the political pot is now boiling over the state, the European war furnishes important news articles, the Mexican situation is still somewhat critical, Congress is in session. With these and many other important things going on, you should have the Morning News to keep abreast with the times. The offer of $2.25 a year or $1.00 for five months is only open to people living on the rural routes and is a remarkably low price. In order to take advantage of this offer, you can clip out the coupon in this advertisement and mail it, together with your remittance, to the Circulation Department of the Waco Morning News. Do it now. This offer is open to old as well as new subscribers.

Four Companies of Cavalry of Iowa Stop Over Here

For the first time in a couple of weeks, Waco had a number of the border-hound militiamen on the streets yesterday. The soldiers were members of companies A, B, C and D of Iowa cavalry. The cavalrymen arrived in the morning and remained until 11 p. m. and spent the intervening hours sightseeing in the city. Many of the troopers went to the electric scoreboard of the Morning News on the ball game, and cooled off in the shade of the parks. The horses of the companies were given a chance to stretch and were watered and fed here.

WANTS LOCAL OPTION ELECTION IN COUNTY

DR. A. J. BARTON WOULD PUSH McLENNAN ELECTION IN FACE OF SUBMISSION DOUBTS.

SUPPORTS C. A. CULBERSON

His Impression Is That Convention Was Ring-Ruled by Liquor Machine.

Local option elections will be held in McLennan, Dallas, Tarrant, Travis, Harris, Jefferson and possibly a number of other wet counties in the state, before the convening of the legislature in January, if the suggestion of Dr. Arthur James Barton, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, are acted upon by the pros of the state. Dr. Barton also advocates the holding of local option elections in all wet counties, no matter what action the legislature takes in regard to the submission question.

In commenting upon the recent utterances of M. H. Wolfe of Dallas, state chairman of the submission forces, in regard to the calling of elections in the above counties, Dr. Barton said: "It is pleasing to me as superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league to see the stand that Mr. Wolfe and other leading pros of the state have taken in proposing to call elections in Dallas, Tarrant, McLennan, Travis, Harris, Jefferson and possibly other wet counties. 'I hope this may be done, whether the legislature shall obey or disregard the wishes of the people as expressed in the recent majority for submission.

URGES LOCAL OPTION ACTIVITY.

"Even if the legislature shall obey the voice of the people, as is sincerely hoped it will, we cannot adopt state-wide constitutional prohibition until 1917, and could hardly hope to see the law enacted and made operative before January, 1920. Hence the pros ought in the meantime to carry every county possible by county elections. No saloon ought to be allowed to remain open and doing business in any county one day after it is possible to close it.

"Of course if the legislature should be actuated by the same spirit as the Houston convention and should leave the voice of the people, it will make it much easier to carry many of the counties for prohibition and will give greatly increased pro majorities.

"It is not the policy of the Anti-Saloon league, which is a state-wide organization, to take the initiative in calling county elections. We leave that to the local prohibition forces in each county, but whenever and whenever an election is called and the help of the Anti-Saloon league is needed and desired, it is given without stint.

"I confidently hope and expect to see a large number of other counties swing into the pro column in the near future. Dr. Barton expressed his feelings concerning the Houston convention in the following language:

"I was deprived of attending the convention by reason of not being well. I had made all my plans to go, but had to cancel my engagements and come home for rest and recuperation. I was away from home for a week under the care of a doctor.

"Not having attended the convention myself, I have had to receive my impressions and opinions from others.

"Judging by the press reports and editorials, I conclude it was a typical liquor machine dominated, liquor ring-ruled convention, in which the views and wishes of the democratic voters of Texas were ignored and scouted.

"The flagrant and shameless disregard of several counties in unseating the regularly elected delegates and in seating as delegates men who were not elected and who had no right whatever, is another demonstration of the tender and sacred regard which the brewers and their hirelings cherish for local self government.

"The refusal of the political bosses and autocrats to recognize the voice of the people and put submission to the platform is another evidence of the regard which these same bosses cherish for the wishes of the whole people, when they are in conflict with the interests of the open saloon and the political fortunes of those who stand for the saloon.

"The whole Houston performance following so closely in the wake of the high-handed political robbery perpetrated at San Antonio, ought to be sufficient to put the honest yeomanry of Texas on notice that there can be no cleanliness and honesty in the conduct of our public affairs till the saloon which is the sum of all villainies and the seat of every manner of political corruption, is put out of business.

"We must close the saloon and relegate to private life all public officials, from the governor on down the line, whose campaign expenses are paid by the brewers and who stand ready at any time to do any sort of dirty political work at the behest of the brewers."

DR. BARTON WILL SUPPORT CULBERSON.

Dr. Barton has decided to support Charles A. Culbertson for the United States senate. Dr. Barton also expresses the hope that a great majority of the prohibitionists of Texas will take the same view of the situation as he does.

In discussing the senatorial situation as between Senator Culbertson and O. B. Colquitt, Dr. Barton said that both candidates are anti and in that event it is the duty and privilege of every pro to choose the least of the two evils. "If they do this in this case," he continued, "they will naturally support Culbertson. While he is an anti, he has rendered good service to the public, and so far as I know, his name has never been connected with graft or political trickery and he has never been on the political payrolls of the liquor machine. There has been the case with his opponent.

"It will be remembered also that a few years ago in a public address he took a very bold and active stand against the political activities of the liquor machine and served notice that if it did not cease to meddle with Texas politics that Texas people would put it out of business.

"In view of these facts and in view of Mr. Colquitt's well known subservience to the liquor traffic and his willingness to do its bidding, I have no hesitancy in giving my personal support to Culbertson, and am of the opinion that a great majority of the pros of the state will take the same view."

Christian Endeavor Interest Growing

The Christian Endeavor service at the Second Presbyterian church last night was led by Miss Willie Raborn.

"True Beauty" was the subject for the evening. There was a good turnout, especially the older folks, who seem to be becoming more and more interested (coming out of their shells) so to speak. Which only means the older folks are taking active part in the services.

The service last night was an unusually good one in every particular. The attendance was better than has been for quite a while.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

The Gurley School Mothers' club will entertain the friends and patrons of the school on the school grounds at 8 o'clock this evening. Home-made cake and cream will be served, also soft drinks. Every one cordially invited.

Officer Glenn Wright came up yesterday afternoon with three Mexicans from Mart, the men being charged with offenses of fighting and drunkenness. Mr. Wright has had the record of furnishing the county with quite a number of road hands.

Considerable interest is expected in the contest of the Waco Rotary club for the choice of a municipal flag for Waco. It is thought by the members that the selection of such a flag is a community feature well worth stressing and $40 in cash prizes has been raised.

On return of Col. W. A. Poage to this city from a trip to Albany, a meeting of those interested in the holding of an old settlers' reunion in Waco will be held. September 9 has been suggested as the date. Colonel Poage has been the moving spirit in the reunions of previous years.

The second meeting of the recently formed Hughes-Fairbanks club for this county is scheduled to be held in the blue room of the city hall next Thursday night. The committee on constitution and by-laws is charged with having a report ready for this meeting. F. A. Gaston is president of the club.

C. H. Machen will be the chief speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Baraca-Philathea City union tomorrow evening at the Austin Avenue.

The Sunday evening dinner at the Raleigh was largely attended by the people of Waco as well as by a number of parties from Mart, Marlin and McGregor. Mrs. Howard Mann rendered a number of vocal selections, which were highly appreciated by the audience as evidenced by the encores. Leon Block presided at the piano, and rendered a number of solos, as did Mrs. Mick on the violin.

Railway Postal Clerk Arrested.

A complaint filed before United States Commissioner A. P. McCormick yesterday morning charges W. B. Jewel, a railway postal clerk of Waco, with rifling the mails. It is alleged the man now under arrest had taken from a decoy letter mailed at Rockdale a marked $5 bill and a quarter of a dollar. The letter failed to arrive with the money, it having been opened and then re-addressed to some other point. The bill was mailed before mailing, and it is alleged a United States postal inspector found the money at a local barber shop, where he believes Jewel had it changed on arriving in Waco. Jewel has been in the employ of the postal department for some time, having lived in Waco, however, for only a short time. He is about 37 years of age, and has a wife and six children.

Working Boys Have Unusual Meeting

Members of the Working Boys' Sunday school had the most interesting meeting this summer at their regular meeting place at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. After the lesson was taught, the boys marched to the Palace of Sweets, where Mr. Annett and his assistants were waiting for them. The boys being 125 strong, were seated in the parlor of the Palace of Sweets, and enjoyed a delicious dish of ice cream prepared for this special occasion.

After enjoying the great feast given them, the boys gave a vote of thanks to the management of the Palace of Sweets and departed for the Y. M. C. A., where they had their regular Sunday afternoon swim.

Information received here from camp headquarters is that many of the young women officers are already on the grounds and that the Fort Worth people have rallied royally to the plan.

Lieutenant W. H. Henderson of the engineering corps, United States army, arrived in Fort Worth Saturday morning and immediately went to the camp site to personally inspect it and make arrangements for the setting up of the tent city. Lieutenant Henderson coincides with all plans and arrangements thus made and was loud in his praise of the excellent site donated by Mayor Tyra. The mayor, Colonel Lehane and Quartermaster Tillman were with the commandant when he journeyed to the camp site.

WANTS LOCAL OPTION ELECTION IN COUNTY

DR. A. J. BARTON WOULD PUSH McLENNAN ELECTION IN FACE OF SUBMISSION DOUBTS.

SUPPORTS C. A. CULBERSON

His Impression Is That Convention Was Ring-Ruled by Liquor Machine.

Local option elections will be held in McLennan, Dallas, Tarrant, Travis, Harris, Jefferson and possibly a number of other wet counties in the state, before the convening of the legislature in January, if the suggestion of Dr. Arthur James Barton, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, are acted upon by the pros of the state. Dr. Barton also advocates the holding of local option elections in all wet counties, no matter what action the legislature takes in regard to the submission question.

In commenting upon the recent utterances of M. H. Wolfe of Dallas, state chairman of the submission forces, in regard to the calling of elections in the above counties, Dr. Barton said: "It is pleasing to me as superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league to see the stand that Mr. Wolfe and other leading pros of the state have taken in proposing to call elections in Dallas, Tarrant, McLennan, Travis, Harris, Jefferson and possibly other wet counties. I hope this may be done, whether the legislature shall obey or disregard the wishes of the people as expressed in the recent majority for submission."

URGES LOCAL OPTION ACTIVITY.

"Even if the legislature should obey the voice of the people, as is sincerely hoped it will, we cannot adopt state-wide constitutional prohibition until 1917, and could hardly hope to see the law enacted and made operative before January, 1920. Hence the pros ought in the meantime to carry every county possible by county elections. No saloon ought to be allowed to remain open and doing business in any county one day after it is possible to close it."

"Of course if the legislature should be actuated by the same spirit as the Houston convention and should defy the voice of the people, it will make it much easier to carry many of the counties for prohibition and will give greatly increased pro majorities."

"It is not the policy of the Anti-Saloon league, which is a state-wide organization, to take the initiative in calling county elections. We leave that to the local prohibition forces in each county, but wherever and whenever an election is called and the help of the Anti-Saloon league is needed and desired, it is given without stint."

"I confidently hope and expect to see a large number of other counties swing into the pro column in the near future. Dr. Barton expressed his feelings concerning the Houston convention in the following language:

"I was deprived of attending the convention by reason of not being well. I had made all my plans to go, but had to cancel them and come home for rest and recuperation, where I have been for a week under the care of a doctor."

"Not having attended the convention myself, I have had to receive my impressions and opinions from others."

"Judging by the press reports and editorials, I conclude it was a typical liquor machine dominated, liquor ring-ruled convention in which the views and wishes of the democratic voters of Texas were ignored and scouted."

"The flagrant and shameless disregard of several counties in unseating the regularly elected delegates and in seating as delegates men who were not elected and who had no right whatever, is another demonstration of the tender and sincere regard which the brewers and their hirelings cherish for local self government."

"The refusal of the political bosses and autocrats to recognize the voice of the people and put submission to the platform is another evidence of the regard which these same bosses cherish for the wishes of the whole people, when they are in conflict with the interests of the open saloon and the political fortunes of those who stand for the saloon."

"The whole Houston performance following so closely in the wake of the high-handed political robbery perpetrated at San Antonio, ought to be sufficient to put the honest yeomanry of Texas on notice that there can be no cleanliness and honesty in the conduct of our public affairs and the saloon which is the sum of all villainies and the seat of every manner of political corruption, is put out of business."

"We must close the saloon and relegate to private life all public officials, from the governor on down the line whose campaign expenses are paid by the brewers and who stand ready at any time to do any sort of dirty political work at the behest of the brewers."

DR. BARTON WILL SUPPORT CULBERSON.

Dr. Barton has decided to support Charles A. Culbertson for the United States senate. Dr. Barton also expresses the hope that a great majority of the prohibitionists of Texas will take the same view of the situation as he does.

In discussing the senatorial situation as between Senator Culbertson and O. B. Colquitt, Dr. Barton said that both candidates are antis and in that event it is the duty and privilege of every pro to choose the least of the two evils. "If they do this in this case," he continued, "they will naturally support Culbertson. While he is an anti, he has rendered good service to the public, and so far as I know, his name has never been connected with graft or political trickery and he has never been on the political payroll of the liquor machine, as has been the case with his opponent."

"It will be remembered also that a few years ago in a public address he took a very bold and active stand against the political activities of the liquor machine and served notice that if it did not cease to meddle with Texas politics that Texas people would put it out of business."

"In view of these facts and in view of Mr. Colquitt's well known subservience to the liquor traffic and his willingness to do its bidding, I have no hesitancy in giving my personal support to Culbertson, and am of the opinion that a great majority of the pros of the state will take the same view."

Christian Endeavor Interest Growing

The Christian Endeavor service at the Second Presbyterian church last night was led by Miss Willie Raborn. "True Beauty" was the subject for the evening. There was a good turnout, especially the older folks, who seem to be becoming more and more interested (coming out of their shells) so to speak. Which only means the older folks are taking active part in the services.

The service last night was an unusually good one in every particular. The attendance was better than has been for quite a while.

The boys being 125 strong, were seated in the parlor of the Palace of Sweets, and enjoyed a delicious dish of ice cream prepared for this special occasion.

After enjoying the great feast given them, the boys gave a vote of thanks to the management of the Palace of Sweets and departed for the Y. M. C. A., where they had their regular Sunday afternoon swim.
